SARAH E. POSEY IN LAST SLEEP

Widow of Oliver Posey Answers
Death Summons Today, 12 Years
After Husband's Demise.

SICK FOR LAST FEW MONTHS

Resides in Posey Homestead Place of
Her Death, 42 Years—Born in Tiffin, Ohio.

Mrs. Sarah E. Posey, age seventy-seven years, died at her home at 612 North Main street, the old Posey homestead in which she has resided for forty-two years, shortly before noon today.

Mrs. Posey has been in very poor health for the last few months. During the last few weeks her condition has been very grave and members of her immediate family have feared the worst. Before she was compelled to remain in bed she was active and energetic, which characteristic was prominent throughout her life. She would not submit to the inevitable.

Mrs. Posey was a devout Methodist, and was consecrated to the church. When but a little while of a girl at seven years of age she united with the M. E. church at Tiffin, Ohio, her birthplace and remained true to her vows all through life, ever faithful to the creed of her early choice.

Mrs. Posey was the daughter of Col. and Mrs. J. W. Patterson of Brooklyn, New York. She was born in Tiffin, Ohio, April 11, 1835. She was reared in the home of her birth and remained there until she was married to Oliver Posey.

The marriage of Miss Patterson and Mr. Posey took place at the Patterson home in Tiffin, O., October 26, 1857. Directly afterwards, Mr. and Mrs. Posey moved to Leavenworth, Kansas where they resided several years. From there they moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, and then to Rushville in 1870 where they settled permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. Posey moved into the home in North Main street in which Mrs. Posey died today, and where her husband died twelve years ago. To the union three children were born: W. A. Posey of Washington, D. C., A. W. Posey of Spokane, Washington and Mrs. Anna D. Denning, of this city wife of Albert Denning. They all survive her, as does one brother, James G. Patterson of Indianapolis. Jefferson Carr, who is at the point of death at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alvin Moor, was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Posey's. The funeral will probably be held some time Saturday afternoon.

RILEY SMALL IN CONCERT

Former Local Organist Will Play at
Old Melodies Musicales.

The following appeared in the Indianapolis Star this morning together with a picture of J. Riley Small, formerly of this city:

J. Riley Small is the director of the Tabernacle Church Choir and the organist there and also at the Temple. He is one of the best organists in Indianapolis and is a favorite accompanist with many of the Indianapolis singers. He will play the accompaniments for his choir and for several of the soloists who will sing at the concert of old-time melodies to be given at the Murat Theater Dec. 11 for the benefit of The Star Santa Claus Fund.

WHOOPIING COUGH IS FATAL

Infant Daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Otto Floyd Dies.

Priscilla Floyd, the six-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Floyd, died yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at their home in East Eighth street, from whooping cough. She had been ill for about a week and death was expected. The parents survive. The funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at the residence by the Rev. C. M. Yocum. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

BIG BATTLE DRAWS CROWD OF ROOTERS

Maxwell and Rushville Fight For Football Honors This Afternoon
at South Main Street Grounds.

TEAMS EVENLY MATCHED

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, Rushville and Maxwell team of Newcastle began battling for the football supremacy of eastern Indiana. A large crowd greeted the two teams and the game was expected to be a hummer. The two teams appeared to be evenly matched and which ever way the game goes it will be by a narrow margin.

Because of a lack of interest in Newcastle, a special train was not run. The Newcastle team came this morning by way of Connersville and will return this evening going by way of Shirley. The locals were not confident of winning by any means but were prepared to fight until the last. Rushville expected to spring several new plays on Maxwell while the visitors depended largely on the punting ability of Harry Shindle.

WATSON PROPOSES TOAST TO WILSON

Rushville Statesman Takes Lead at Phi Psi Banquet in Sending Message

TO THE NEW PRESIDENT-ELECT

At the annual Thanksgiving banquet and gambol of the Indiana Alumni Association of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, held last night at the Claypool Hotel, James E. Watson of Rushville, prominent in Republican State and National politics, proposed a toast to President-elect Woodrow Wilson, the first Phi Psi to be elected to the presidency, and on his motion it was voted to send Mr. Wilson a message of fraternal greetings, says the Indianapolis Star. Wishes for his personal success and the success of his administration were expressed in the cablegram which was sent to Mr. Wilson.

More than 200 fraternity men, including several men prominent in the affairs of the State, were present. Judge Robert M. VanAtta of Marion was toastmaster.

Herbert S. King was elected president of the association for the ensuing year, and Guernsey VanRiper was named secretary. Both live in Indianapolis.

INGRATITUDE, BLACKEST SIN

But Gratitude is Least of All
Virtues, Says The Rev. C. M.
Yocum.

AT THANKSGIVING SERVICE

Because a Man at Least Can Say,
"I Thank You"—Things to be Grateful For.

"I wonder if the world is so ungrateful today that only one out of every ten came back and returned thanks for their life," said the Rev. C. M. Yocum at the union Thanksgiving service at the Main Street Christian church this morning.

"If it is true I would be exceedingly sad. It is even more pitiable because not as many as one out of ten has come here to express our gratitude for what God has done for us."

"If you would be grateful," he continued, "visit the blind asylum where men are groping in darkness. Realize that they have never seen the glories of nature, have never looked into the eyes of their loved ones."

"You can hear. You have heard the sweet symphonies of music and the beautiful words of a mother. Then go into an asylum where there abide men who never knew the sound of anything."

"So we might go down the list of blessings and be thankful for all of them. We need to be thankful for our nation when we consider our resources." The minister quoted statistics from crop reports to prove what a bountiful year it has been and how the people, the beneficiaries, should be grateful.

"We need consider, then, not so much the material blessings as our religious and spiritual life and how it has been blessed," he said. "We have our church, our home, our public schools."

"God stands back of every good and perfect gift. Those who are present and those who are not here have been blessed. If man is the only recipient and God is the only benefactor, are there only two attitudes, gratitude and ingratitude? Are all those who are here this morning grateful and those who are not, ungrateful? I think not."

The Rev. Mr. Yocum recited stories of ingratitude taken from history. He recalled that Shakespeare had termed it "a marble hearted fiend."

Ingratitude, he continued, "breeds war, destroys friendship, ruins homes. It crucified Christ. It is the blackest sin a man can commit."

"On the other hand," he said a few minutes later, turning to the brighter side, "gratitude is the song of praise the world gives its benefactor. While ingratitude is the blackest of all the sins, gratitude is the least of all the virtues, for a man at least can say, 'I thank you.'"

"Gratitude is the humble cottage that stands by the wayside as we pass through life. In it are three windows. Through one we look out on humanity and see that all envy, discord and hatred has flown."

"Out of the second window we look on nature and see good in everything because God has created all these things for us."

"The third window opens from above, and in looking upward we stand on holy ground and repeat: 'My God I thank thee for thy loving kindness and thy tender mercies.'"

The Rev. Mr. Yocum closed with a short admonition on practicing gratitude daily by word and by deed. The church was about half full of people for the service.

DEAD MAN DIDN'T OBSERVE ORDER

Engineer Sharkey Should Have Stopped Passenger When Light
Was Out, Rules Say.

FACT REVEALED IN INQUIRY

C. H. & D. Trainmaster Testifies Before
Marion County Coroner—
Considered Crew Competent.

Edward E. Hoffman, trainmaster of the C. H. & D. railroad, testified before Coroner Durham yesterday afternoon reviewing train rules in force on the C. H. & D. lines which may have a bearing on the wreck at Irvington November 13.

The coroner brought out a rule which provides that the absence of a switch light at a point where such a light should be must be regarded by an engineer as a stop signal. Under this ruling William Sharkey, engineer of passenger train No. 36, was required to stop his train at the east switch, which was left open by the crew of freight train No. 95.

The coroner also made a part of the record the company rules regarding the responsibility of the care of switches when trains take sidings. The rules quoted by Mr. Hoffman in the record and on which the coroner will base his verdict, are as follows: "Switches must be left in proper condition after having been used. Conductors are responsible for the position of the switches used by them and their trainmen except where the switch tenders are stationed. A switch must not be left open for a following train unless in charge of a trainman of such train."

"When a train backs in on a siding to meet or to be passed by another train, the engineer when his train is in the clear, must see that the switch is properly set for the main track. Engineers must know that switches are properly set before they pull in or out of siding or other tracks."

"A signal imperfectly displayed or the absence of a signal at a place where a signal is usually shown must be regarded as a stop signal and the fact reported to the superintendent."

Coroner Durham asked: "Did you consider this crew in charge of train No. 95, east-bound freight, including P. J. Hines, conductor; Willis York, engineer; E. F. Cox, rear brakeman; Carl Gross, front brakeman, and Fred Emberton, fireman, competent to perform the duties required of them?"

Mr. Hoffman answered: "Yes, sir."

WAS DESERTED VILLAGE

Practically Every Place of Business
Closed By Noon Today.

Rushville was a deserted village this afternoon. By noon practically every place of business in the city, with few exceptions, was closed. All offices in the court house, saloons and banks and many business houses were closed all day. Drug stores and a number of business houses were to be opened late this afternoon. A large crowd of people attended the football game while a much larger crowd remained indoors and enjoyed the holiday.

Greensburg News: The case of J. T. Meek vs. Sarah E. Richey, in which judgment was rendered in 'Squire Ketchum's court against the defendant has been appealed by Mrs. Richey through her attorneys, Tremain & Turner, to the circuit court.

CALL OF THE GAME WAS LOUD Many Take Advantage of Weather to Go Hunting.

The call of the game and the gun was heard by a small army of men in Rushville and Rush county today, the proverbial time for hunting expeditions. Yesterday afternoon the hunting license business in the clerk's office had a big boom as business was rushing. Many hunters called and added their dollar so that there hunting would be perfectly legal. The day was ideal for hunting. Several members of the Rushville Gun club went to Morristown to attend the turkey day shoot given by the club there.

HOPE TO REACH OVER 10,000 PEOPLE

Short Courses Will be Held by Purdue in More Than Twenty Counties.

LIVE STOCK FOR SCHOOLS

The Agricultural Extension Department of Purdue University will hold, during the winter, 'Short Courses for farmers and their wives, in more than twenty counties of the State. The instruction will be as practical as possible and no expense is being spared to place it on a high plane.

For use in the work, a carload of live stock, consisting of two pure bred Belgian mares, three steers, two dairy cows, four hogs and four sheep is being furnished by the University. Several instructors give the lectures and demonstrations in Crops, Soils, Live Stock, Dairying, Horticulture, Poultry and Domestic Science.

The localities in which the Courses are held furnish the halls free and pay all local expenses.

During the winter it is hoped that more than 10,000 people will be reached with these movable schools.

SEEKS LOCAL DATA FOR PARCELS POST

Postoffice Department Sends Circulars to Get Estimate on Proposed Patronage.

MAILED TO LOCAL PATRONS

Circulars explaining the rates and purposes of the parcels post system were received yesterday at the postoffice to be sent to prospective patrons. They are asked to fill out blanks telling to what extent they expect to use the post and these circulars will be returned to the department at Washington. From these, plans for the installation of the system here will be made.

By this method it will be possible, to a degree, to estimate the amount of supplies which will be needed, and what equipment may be necessary in handling the increase caused by the parcels post law.

The fishermen in some parts of Portugal make material increases in the amount of their catch by the use of luminous bait. This is done by a fluid secured from the body of a fish which is quite plentiful in the waters of that country.

WILL THEY HAVE A HAPPY XMAS?

Daily Republican Santa Claus Fund
Will Help Bring Joy to Little
Tots' Hearts.

IF THE PEOPLE WILL ASSIST

Unprecedented Past Success of Venture
Practically Assures it For
The Future.

Today's Thanksgiving.
Four weeks from yesterday is Christmas.

On that day the Daily Republican Santa Clause fund, made possible by the many kind and thoughtful friends of the poor little folks of Rushville, will make glad the youngsters of Rushville who would not likely have a happy Christmas otherwise.

Yes, the Daily Republican will have a Santa Claus fund this year. Already, even at this early date, many people have called at the Daily Republican office to inquire if the fund is to be handled by the Daily Republican this year. The keen interest in the custom has caused the management of the fund to realize what a disappointment it would be not only to the children but also to the people who desire the privilege to give if the fund were not continued.

Contributions to the fund may be made at any time now. The first list of contributors will not be made public until the first of next week. Then every day the contributions, with the names of the contributors, will be published up until Christmas eve.

That the Daily Republican Santa Claus fund has been and is popular with the people of Rushville and Rush county is proved by a brief summary of the growth that it has made in three years.

The fund was first instituted in 1909. Then it was an infant treading on new untraced territory. It was a task, it is true, that the manager of the fund had not contemplated, but when once started it was decided to carry it out to the minutest detail. When the success of the first attempt was seen, and the gladness which it brought to the hearts of the poor little tots of Rushville was apparent, it was decided that the fund would be carried on from year to year, provided that the people of the city and county would lend their helpful assistance in making it possible.

A total sum of $152.32 was contributed in 1909. Last year the total was $179.18, a gain in two years of $26.86. In 1910 the total amount contributed was $155.16, a gain over the first year of $2.84. The gain last year over 1910 was $24.02.

LOST WATCH IS FOUND.

Gone forever was the belief of John Kuntz, residing north of Manilla, of a watch which he lost last October a year ago, while husking corn in one of the fields on his farm. The watch was of the olden make and had a sterling silver case. But he was wrong, for yesterday while husking corn in the same field, much to his delight, as he was reaching over to pick up an ear he found the lost watch. After wiping the dirt from the case he wound the watch and it immediately started to run and is now keeping good time.

NEW PAVING ENTERPRISE

My Daddy-in-Law, John W. (Buck) Tompkins, told a friend, in speaking of me, that the only reason I hadn't paved the streets with GOLD BRICKS from the store to my residence was lack of Funds.

What's the matter with all my friends and those interested in the city's welfare patronizing me and helping supply me with the funds. How would you like to see Rushville paved with Gold Bricks?

PEACE STILL SITTING AFAR OFF

The Manner in Which the Ottoman Armies Have Clung to Their Various Positions Gives Nazim Pasha and Representatives of Porte Courage to Refuse to Submit to Initial Demands of Allied Balkan Forces.

Vienna, Nov. 28.—The negotiations which are proceeding at Tchataldja are preliminary to peace, not to an armistice, but the outcome is doubtful. Turkey refuses to surrender Adrianople, Scutari and Janina. She also refuses to pay a war indemnity. Bulgaria is unable to break the Tchataldja line without sacrificing 40,000 men. Mediation by the powers is under consideration. The Russian ambassador at Constantinople is endeavoring to reconcile the views of the belligerents.

London, Nov. 28.—It now seems probable that negotiations for peace between the Balkan allies and Turkey, reported to have been started at Bagheshah, Turkey, will not result in the peaceful conclusion of hostilities that had been hoped for, according to news that has been received from the various European capitals.

The fact that the Turkish forces have so long been able to hold Adrianople against such terrific odds and the fact that the Montenegrins have not been able to pierce the defenses of Scutari, give the Turks some ground for refusing to comply with the demands of the allies that these two towns, as well as Janina, be surrendered. The strength of the Turks' position behind the Tchataldja lines also gives him courage in refusing to submit to the demands of the allies.

But in spite of these dark predictions as to the failure of negotiations, the tension throughout Europe has been perceptibly lessened.

The belief that Germany, France and Great Britain will succeed in averting the conflict toward which they seemed for a few days to be tending, has grown. Diplomats see a reason to be especially hopeful over the report that Austria-Hungary has agreed to allow Serbia a seaport on the Adriatic as well as to the question about the future of Albania. If this comes true a dangerous pressure has been removed.

The reports which come here from Constantinople are not encouraging to those who are looking for the immediate solution of the Balkan question by the peace allies, now said to be deliberating. Nazim Pasha and one of the representatives of the porte rejected the proposals submitted, and in turn gave out counter proposals.

A special correspondent in Vienna says: "Optimism reigns in Austria-Hungary now. The search for elements of composure is general and every political incident, trivial or indifferent, receives correspondingly favorable interpretation. Turkish reserves are arriving daily from Asia Minor. They are well fed and well clad and full of vigor. Under these circumstances the Turkish negotiators will refuse to discuss the surrender of Adrianople, Scutari and Janina. No greater error could have been committed than to attempt to impose such hard conditions on a country which still possesses vast military reserves and which only needs to carry on the war another month to counteract the splendid victories of the allies and turn the tables on Bulgaria. Greece is wisely moderate and will benefit correspondingly. The Russian ambassador at Constantinople is working hard to reconcile the conflicting views of the belligerents and hopes to succeed."

LITERARY SIDE OF
MINE EXPLOITATION

More About the Case of Hawthorne and Others.

New York, Nov. 28.—Some of the letters written by Julian Hawthorne, who dropped literature to take up the exploitation of a mine, as he expressed it, were read to the jury which is trying the novelist and his associates—ex-Mayor Quincy of Boston, Dr. William J. Morton and Albert Freeman, the mining promoter—all of whom are charged with having swindled the public out of millions of dollars by fraudulent use of the mails.

The "literature" submitted to the jury dealt mainly with the Temagami-Cobalt mine. Mr. Hawthorne did not stint his praise of the Temagami, its prospects and the fortunes to be made out of it. For instance, he informed one woman, a prospective investor, that an "investment of $2,000 (in the stock of the Temagami company) would make one independently rich."

After the jury had listened to a glowing description of the Temagami, Colin Timmins, who has been a miner in this country and Mexico for thirty years, told of a visit to Ontario to see the Temagami mine. He said he was met by Dr. Morton, who took him to the mine. He said he could find no trace of gold or silver, but saw some copper scattered through the rock.

F. H. Morley, a mining engineer, also testified with regard to a visit to the mine. Dr. Morton received him and accompanied him over the ground. Witness also was unable to find any evidence of silver or gold.

FOGEL WILL FIGHT

Ousted Baseball Magnate Will Appeal to the Courts.

New York, Nov. 28.—Unless the courts come to his assistance, Horace S. Fogel, former president of the Philadelphia baseball club, will be unable to represent that or any other club in the councils of the National League. Fogel, who has been on trial before the members of the league charged with attacking the honesty of the game and the integrity of President Lynch and several umpires, was found guilty after a long session and was practically expelled from organized baseball. In rendering the verdict the league stood 7 to 1 for conviction, but the magnates were extremely careful in wording the penalty in order to guard against court proceedings which Fogel says will be instituted immediately.

Auto Driver Refused License Shoots Head of London Police.

London, Nov. 28.—Commissioner of Police Henry of London was shot and probably fatally wounded last night. Two shots were fired. His assailant was arrested.

Sir Edward Henry was shot just as he was about to enter his home in Kensington, by a man named Albert Bowes, aged twenty-five, who had a grievance against Scotland Yard because it refused to issue an auto driver's license to him on the ground that he had been convicted of drunkenness.

Echo of Wet and Dry Fight.

Frankfort, Ind., Nov. 28.—Everett Hopkins is on trial charged with assault and battery with intent to kill Rev. James C. Burkhardt, pastor of the First Christian church, on July 20 last. The attack was the result of the wet and dry liquor issue here. The state is insisting upon a prison sentence, while the defense will attempt to prove the attack upon the minister was not with intent to kill.

Mrs. Emma Maier, 627 N. 7th St., Springfield, Ill., says her kidney trouble resulted from an operation: "From then until I used Foley Kidney Pills I did not know what a well day was. Then my backache left me, that tired dragged down feeling was gone, I slept soundly and awoke refreshed. I had no more headache or dizzy spells." Safe and sure. Try them.

EXHIBIT TO PLAY IMPORTANT PART

Will be One of the Interesting Features of Indiana Better Roads Convention in Indianapolis.

DEMONSTRATIONS TO BE MADE

Displays From U. S. Department of Public Roads And From Purdue University to be Seen.

What promises to be one of the most interesting features of the Indiana better roads convention at the German House in Indianapolis, Dec. 11, 12 and 13, is the exhibit of machinery and equipment used in road construction and maintenance, together with practical demonstrations of the methods employed in the scientific construction of highways. Chief among the displays will be those from the department of public roads at Washington, D. C., of which Logan Waller Page is director; and that of Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

The national government exhibit was shown recently at Atlantic City at the convention of the American Good Roads Congress, where it was viewed by thousands of persons. It was easily the most attractive feature of the convention. The exhibit also has been shown in many other parts of the country. It formed one of the chief attractions on a good roads train that traveled thousands of miles, principally in the western states. As everything will be free it is the belief of those in charge of the arrangements that thousands of Hoosiers will avail themselves of the opportunity to view the display.

Replies received by the committee on arrangements for the convention indicate that interest in the meeting is manifest in every part of the state. More than 750 delegates have been appointed by public officials, commercial and trade organizations, and other bodies. This number is expected to reach at least 4,000 within the next few days. It is not necessary, however, to be a delegate to attend the convention.

The program practically has been completed. Addresses of welcome will be made at the opening session by Governor Marshall, Governor Ralston, Mayor Samuel Lewis Shank and former vice-president Charles W. Fairbanks. Men of nation-wide prominence have been obtained to present the different sides of the road construction and maintenance problem.

The promoters of the convention hope that an overwhelming sentiment in favor of a better roads law will be crystallized as a result of the convention. With this end in view an especial effort has been made to induce each member of the General Assembly, which convenes in June, to attend.

The convention is being given under the auspices of the commercial and trade organizations of Indianapolis. Present indications are that the attendance will reach 5,000. A surprisingly large number of letters have been received by the committee in charge from men in every station of life who indorse the convention idea heartily and who say they will attend and also ask their friends and associates to do likewise.

The program was arranged so that there will be ample room for the discussion of the questions that are expected to arise from the different subjects that will be presented by the good roads experts.

VISIT KNIGHTSTOWN HOME.

Representative of the State W. R. C. visited the Orphans' Home at Knightstown a few days ago in an official capacity. There are now more than 400 children at the home and good health and contentment prevail, according to report of the visitors. Grandchildren of soldiers are now admitted on the same basis as were the children of soldiers until recently.

Mr. Hiram Steele, 628 N. 6th St., Terre Haute, Ind., writes, "I came down with a severe case of Kidney trouble. I had to get up too often at night, there was pain and much sediment, puffs under my eyes, back pained terribly, and I was dizzy. Foley Kidney Pills cured me quickly, and I feel 100 per cent better."

Decatur Herald: The Indianapolis Star does well to chide the Republican newspapers for hot words spoken in the political campaign, but some one should remind it that they are much more excusable than the discordant and ungracious utterances of the Star towards Republicans since the election ended.

Twinges of rheumatism, backache, stiff joints and shooting pains all show your kidneys are not working right. Urinary irregularities, loss of sleep, nervousness, weak back and sore kidneys tell the need of a good reliable kidney medicine. Foley Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and restorative. They build up the kidneys and regulate their action. They will give you quick relief and contain no habit forming drugs.

Do you intend to continue laboring, burning valuable fuel and destroying high priced food with that old worn out cook stove?

You know that old stove eats up a lot of fuel each year.

You know you have trouble in getting it to bake just right, in fact, spoil a batch of bread every once in a while—you know it costs considerable for yearly repairs.

Stop and think and figure.

Wouldn't it pay you to buy a good range—a range with a reputation—

The Great Majestic and Malleable Charcoal Iron Range.

You make no mistake in buying the GREAT MAJESTIC—it's the range with THE REPUTATION—ask your neighbors. Then, too, it's made just right and of the right kind of material—MALLEABLE and CHARCOAL IRON—riveted together practically air tight—lined with pure asbestos board—parts being malleable can't break—has a moveable reservoir and an oven that don't warp—that's why the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel, bakes just right every day in the year (browns bread just right all over without turning,) heats 15 gal. water while breakfast is cooking—properly handled lasts a lifetime, costs practically nothing for repairs.

Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime "unsight unseen;" you'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during demonstration week, see the GREAT MAJESTIC—have its many exclusive features explained—find out why the MAJESTIC is 300% stronger than other ranges where most ranges are weakest.

Don't Overlook the Date. This is a Special Invitation to You and Your Friends and Neighbors

Quicken Our Gratitude.

Whose heart is quickened today to even passing thankfulness for what has come to him or her during the year past, should be thankful for the quickening. And for things missed that were desired there may well be thanksgiving in one's heart. William Dean Howells once voiced in verse the idea—

"Lord for the erring thought
Not into evil wrought;
For the heart from itself kept,
Our thanksgiving accept.
For ignorant hopes that were
Broken to our blind prayer:
For pain, death, sorrow, sent -
Unto our chastisement;
For all loss seeming good,
Quicken our gratitude."

Thanksgiving as a formal, established annual custom has fallen away in observance, mayhap. As a day it is now little different from another holiday. Its older meaning has been submerged. There must be a union religious service of thanksgiving, because few of the congregations could muster any attendance of the individual members at their own place of worship. It is a day of feasting and football and social pleasures. And all that is well. For thousands of years human beings have made rejoicing annually after the ingathering from nature of its harvests. That was the beginning of Thanksgiving days. We count it from the first Thanksgiving, a prayer service, in the winter of 1621, on the call of Governor Bradford by the Pilgrim fathers on the bleak, snow-bound, storm-swept coast of Massachusetts. Yet the older colony at Jamestown in Virginia had its Thanksgiving, too.

It was a woman who crystallized the matter and set it for all time for the last Thursday of each November. She was Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, editor in the 'sixties of that very notable periodical, Godey's Lady Book, in Philadelphia, and following her suggestion in 1864, President Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday of that year of much trial to the people of these United States, south and north, as to be set apart publicly for a rendering of thanks to the God of both blessings and battles for all the land and its people had received of His providence.

It is an occasion of joy, befitting all expressions of gratitude. And the feasting is not the least of it. It is a day of homecoming for the boys and girls that are away paddling their own canoes in streams afar from home all the workaday year. Family reunions form the pleasantest features of the day, and even the lonely one in boarding house or restaurant has pleasure in knowing and catching glimpses of the reminding of broken home ties. It is a day of memories for everybody, in jail or free, at work or on holiday. And days like these are worth while. And the Republican hopes that all its friends and all its enemies, if any there be in enmity toward it, have had and are enjoying a delightful Thanksgiving day. It is a day of sweet charity, too. There are sorrows and pains in the world, but today they should be soothed or banished, as they can be. And in material things the spirit is gladdened. Remember Whittier's line of how the eye brightens at sight of a rich pumpkin pie:

"Ah, on Thanksgiving day, when from east and from west
From north and from south come the pilgrim and guest,
When the care-wearied man sees his mother once more
And the worn matron smiles where the girl smiled—before
What moistens the lips and what brightens the pie
What calls the past back like a rich pumpkin pie?"

Rushville folks collectively and individually have lots to be thankful for, and not the least of the gifts coming daily to man is a realizing sense of what a blessing was bestowed on him when he failed to get something he held a while ago as the dearest of his heart's desires.

Taft has instituted 71 suits against trusts. Roosevelt, Cleveland, McKinley and Harrison in all instituted 61. No wonder Perkins was willing to put up.

Once Turkey owned a good share of Europe, and now if they make peace terms quick, they may have the bath houses that line the Bosphorus.

Editorialettes

Congressman Gray's plan for post-office aspirants is no different than any other. Somebody's due to get it in the neck.

Some sweet feminine voice told us over the telephone this morning that they were reading our colyum on a bet. Now isn't that the dearest thing? She ought to lose.

It is not true, Clarabelle, that you can bring your best bean to time by wearing his picture in your watch.

The government is going to reduce the size of paper bills and at the same time install faster presses. As you were about to remark, bills will be cheaper and come faster. That is SOME improvement.

The home of Oneal Brothers, which'll get your pelt if you don't watch out, has favored this Colyum with a poem, to be pronounced poem. They prefer it be called "When the Bull Moosers Are Going to Win." It matters little to us. Here it is:

When storm buggies don't keep out the cold,
When new fertilizer is better than old,
When Tarplee refuses to go into the snow,

Sam Sanderson Says:

That to be thankful today, one need only go out into the sunlight.

When Oneals don't put on an animal show,
When Lewis Clark can't win ten to one,
When two dollar bills don't lay out in the sun,
When the writer looks good to Philip Heeb for 35 cents,
When everybody quits buying Shimer wire fence,
When 2,000 pounds don't make a ton,
Then you can bet it, ten to one.

SOCIETY NEWS

The women of the Manila Christian church entertained with a masquerade social in the Trees hall in Manila last night.

The members of the 1908 and the 1909 classes of the Manila high school will give a banquet in Manila tonight in honor of the former principal of the high school, Edgar Stiers. Mr. Stiers is now cashier of the Gwynneville bank.

The Goodfellowship club dance this evening at the Modern Woodmen hall promises to be one of the best dances given here in recent years. The Trueblood orchestra of Bloomington will furnish the music and the grand march will start promptly at nine o'clock. The dance is private, being for club members only.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hubbard, the Misses Helen Sexton, Marie Crosby, Bertha Walker, Ruby Amos, Helen Douglas of Knightstown and Mary Seitz of Greensburg and Elmer Williams, Howard Fenton of Anderson, Allen Hiner, Ruby Davis, Allen H. Blackledge and Will B. Brann composed a party that took Thanksgiving dinner at Mrs. Jennie Reed's in Orange.

Miss Inez Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Reynolds, 620 West Fifth street, and Roy Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Saunders, 624 West Fifth street, went to Shelbyville yesterday afternoon and were married at the Baptist church parsonage there by the Rev. M. T. Markland. Last evening a reception was held at the Reynolds home and was attended by Mrs. Mary Webster of Kansas City, Ill., aunt of the bride; James Reynolds and son, Benton, of St. Louis, Mo., uncle and cousin of the bride; Gilbert Palmer of DuPont, Ind., a cousin of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Steven Palmer and Miss Edith Aull of this city.

Miss Claudia Armstrong of Eaton, Ind., well known by the younger set of Rushville, and Elbert Lathrope, also well known here, were married Tuesday evening at the bride's home by the father of the bridegroom, the Rev. Mr. Lathrope. The young women of the wedding party were all members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority which society Miss Armstrong affiliated while a student in DePauw university where she was graduated. Miss Helen Searee of Mooreville, who has visited here often, was the maid of honor. Miss Laura Jackson of Chicago and Miss Nancy Hadley of Plainfield were the bridesmaids. Harry Armstrong of Eaton, brother of the bride, was best man. Miss Loewin Miller of Eaton played the wedding march and Miss Flay Shields of Eaton sang "Because."

The wedding colors were pink and blue, colors of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity of which the bridegroom is a member. He is a graduate of DePauw university. Refreshments of ice cream were served. The home was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms and chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Lathrope spent yesterday in Muncie and returned to Eaton today for Thanksgiving at the Armstrong home. They will leave the latter part of the week for Washington, D. C. where they will be at home. Among those from here attending the wedding were the Misses Vera Winship and Fanny Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Root and Mrs. W. H. Amos.

James Therio, Iron River, Mich., says of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound: "This winter both my children and I were troubled with bad coughs. We used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and it promptly cured us. I recommend it as a good cough and cold cure." Contains no opiates.

AMUSEMENTS

The Palace will show the feature picture entitled "When Uncle Sam Was Young." It is a "101 Bison" 3 reel picture and depicts stirring scenes from the colonial days, such as Bunker Hill, Boston Tea Party, Declaration of Independence, Battle Concord and Lexington, Washington at Valley Forge, etc.

The matinee and night program at the Princess theater is for the benefit of the degree team of Franklin lodge, No. 35 of Odd Fellows. "The Blighted Son," in four reels, was the offering. For tomorrow night the Portola will show "The Sleeper," a Lubin drama, "Captain Barnacles Waif," a Vitagraph, and "Hearts and Diamonds," an Edison.

The Princess has an excellent program to offer patrons Thanksgiving night. Maurice Costello will be seen in "The Adventures of the Italian Model," a Vitagraph drama that is scarcely a parallel in recent pictures. "His Pair of Pants" is a Lubin comedy that is commended to motion picture patrons for its humorous situations. Arthur Johnson will be seen in a picture tomorrow night.

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

THE ROOT OF EVIL
BY THOMAS DIXON

Copyright, 1911, by Thomas Dixon

"I speak today, your honor, in behalf of the man who crouches by my side overwhelmed with shame and grief and conscious dishonor because he took a paltry package of jewelry from a man who has never added one penny to the wealth of the world and yet has somehow gotten possession of one hundred million dollars from those who could not defend themselves from his strength and cunning. This man stands before you now with no shame in his soul, no tears on his cheeks, and with brazen effrontery demands vengeance on a weaker brother.

"Two men are on trial, not one. The majesty of the law has already been vindicated in the tear stained plea that has been entered. Between these two men the court must decide.

"This millionaire who demands vengeance against this broken man today has an income greater than the combined crowned heads of Europe and wields a scepter mightier than czar or emperor. Why? He levies each year millions of taxes without consulting this court, the legislature or any man who walks the earth. He does this by a machine for printing paper tokens of value called stocks. The essence of theft is to take the property of another without giving a return. A green goods man sells printed paper for money. This mighty man also sells printed paper for money. What is the difference? Neither the green goods nor the bogus capital called watered stock represents a dollar in real value.

"This modern marauder whom we have enthroned as our ruler everywhere, from every one, seizes, tears and despoils the fruits of toil, has never added a penny to the wealth of humanity. And what do we find him doing? In the midst of poverty that means hunger and nakedness, disease and death, we have the shameless flaunting of insane luxury. And to what purpose? To challenge the envy of the vain and the foolish, to dazzle the minds of the poor and inflame the lusts of the criminal.

"Do we believe that such things are the decrees of a just and loving God who created this world? These things are not the result of his law, but the results of the violation of law."

The speaker paused, drew close to the judge and then in low, impassioned tones told as if he were talking to a father the story of Woodman's life and the events which drove him to madness on the fatal night of his crime. In flashes of vivid eloquence he described the magnificent ball and drew in somber, heartbreaking contrast the desolation and despair of a proud and sensitive man made desperate by want and ruin, the man who had given his blood to his country and his daily life in an unselfish ministry to the homeless and friendless.

"I do not ask of your honor," he cried in ringing tones, "the repeal of the law against theft—thou shalt not steal! I only ask the suspension of its penalty on this heartbroken man until we can extend it to his oppressors as well, until its thunder shall also echo through the palaces of the rich—thou shalt not steal!"

"The man who has fallen was weak and poor. The man who demands his life is rich and powerful. I ask for a heartbroken man another chance. I

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged.

This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the well known liquid eczema remedy, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription.

We have sold other remedies for skin troubles but none that we can recommend as highly as this for we know that D.D.D. stops the itch at once. We just want you to give D.D.D. a trial. That will be enough to prove it.

Of course all other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute.

But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee:—If you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.

BIG BOOK SWINDLE DEVELOPING DAILY

Further Facts Revealed In Connection With Case.

New York, Nov. 28.—In the $5,000,000 book fraud case which the federal authorities have uncovered developments are coming thick and fast, implicating James J. Farmer and others of the Anglo-American Authors' association, formerly the Kellar-Farmer company of 225 Fifth avenue.

The Anglo-American association maintained an European agency of which a woman was the head. She collected stationery from well-known foreign hotels and upon these were written the so-called "fictitious millionaire" letters to be distributed later among wealthy and glib persons who were regarded as possible customers. One aged woman of this city who paid $131,800 for books to the Anglo-American association never saw a single volume. Her entire fortune has been lost in operations extending over six years, and she is now penniless and so ill that she has not been brought into the case.

Federal officers have intimated the total sum involved will reach over $5,000,000. They are having difficulty, however, in bringing here many wealthy persons who, they allege, have been defrauded. One young man is said by Inspector Swain to have killed himself as the result of swindles he was accused of when he refused to pay for books which he had bought. Wealthy men in Philadelphia are said to have found themselves involved in the affairs of the company when they refused to pay for books and have been obliged to give up on threats of exposure of their behavior at "wine suppers."

SCATHING INDICTMENT

Managers of Putumaya Declared Murderers, Bandits and Pirates.

London, Nov. 28.—Testifying before the committee which is investigating the outrages in the Putumaya rubber district of Peru, E. H. Barnes, who went to Peru in behalf of the Amazon company, stated that the system pursued there produced abominable results from a commercial as well as a humanitarian viewpoint. The local managers, he declared, were criminally culpable. A majority of them were murderers, bandits and pirates. The London directors, in his opinion, were less guilty, but they ought to have known of what was going on.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

President Taft is hard at work on the weekly messages with which he intends to bombard congress during the first few months of the session.

Charles S. Mellen denies flatly that he is to resign from the presidency of the Boston & Maine and New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad companies.

An explosion in a moving picture show in the village of Coloma, Mich., caused the destruction of a block of buildings by fire and injury to several persons.

The engineer, fireman and three negroes were killed when a passenger train on the Southern railroad collided with a freight train on the main line near Memphis.

The mystery has not been lifted in regard to the theft of $50,000 in sovereigns from a consignment from the Bank of England to the Credit Lyonnais of Alexandria.

The dispute between France and Great Britain over gun running at Muscat, Oman, which has embarrassed Franco-British harmony for a decade, has reached a troublesome stage.

When a number of police fired on a party of drunken soldiers at Managua the soldiers ran to their barracks and returned with a machine gun, with which they opened fire on the police. Several persons were killed.

BOND QUESTION CAUSES FLURRY

Alleged Dynamiters Not Adequately Insured.

CONTENTION OF PROSECUTION

Discovery That Attorneys For Some of Defendants in Dynamite Trial, Who Had Given Bond For Their Clients, Had Been Indemnified by Surety Companies Results in the Bonds Being Declared Invalid.

Indianapolis, Nov. 28.—In the dynamiting cases it developed that a number of the defendants have given bonds with their attorneys as security and that in a number of cases these attorneys, before going on the bonds, demanded that they be indemnified. Judge Anderson said the bonds were clearly illegal, as the supreme court had so held. It is understood that several of the defendants cannot give bonds, and under these circumstances they will have to go to jail.

United States Attorney Miller said that he had been informed that Harding, Hovey & Newman, attorneys for the defense, who were on the bonds of certain defendants had been indemnified by cash being placed in their hands. He asked the question in open court of these attorneys if it were not true. Mr. Harding preferred to take up the matter outside the courtroom, but Judge Anderson said:

"I am not doing things outside the courtroom. What is done in this trial will be done in open court."

Mr. Miller said the quickest way was for the attorneys to answer the question at once, for if they did not he would see that it was answered by them.

Mr. Harding said his firm was holding $10,000 indemnity. He said Mr. Hovey, Mr. Newman and he had become liable to a total extent of $57,000, and that when the $30,000 point was reached they had insisted that they be indemnified to the extent of $10,000. Hockin was among the first three for whom the attorneys became sureties, but his bond has been increased and he is in jail. Nearly all the defendants have given surety company bonds, and it is said that the bonds were not executed until after deposits of cash had been made.

In referring to Mr. Harding's statement that the firm of attorneys held only $10,000, Mr. Miller remarked:

"That means they lose nothing if only two defendants for whom they are surety should run away."

Opposed to Public Policy.

Judge Anderson said that as the question had been up in the federal court before, he thought there was no question about the illegality of bonds, when the bondsman was indemnified.

"In other words," said the judge, "if I am on a man's bond for $10,000 and I take $10,000 when I go on his bond, I have no interest whatever in seeing that he is here. The bondsman can snap his fingers at the court. He loses nothing."

"The reason that it is not legal that a bondsman should be indemnified is that it is against public policy to have for bondsman persons who have no interest in seeing the defendants in court. I will say now that the surety company bonds were accepted by the marshal. Had the bonds been offered in open court I would not have accepted them."

"Had Mr. Harding and Mr. Hovey and Mr. Newman offered to become surety to me I would not have accepted it. I do not desire to see attorneys of this court on bonds of defendants."

If the bonds are declared invalid it probably will mean a big addition to the colony of defendants, Hockin, Smythe and Ray, now in jail because of inability to furnish bond.

The cross-examination of Ortle McManigal was completed and he left the stand, but with the understanding that the district attorney might recall him later. The cross-examination brought out further details of McNamara's plan to destroy the city of Los Angeles and also make an arrangement for exploded suitcases containing dynamite when they were opened by anyone except a person acquainted with the mechanism.

Victim of Knockout Drops.

Frankfort, Ind., Nov. 28.—The filing of the report of Coroner Carter in the case of George Allison, an old soldier of Colfax, who died under peculiar circumstances on Oct. 26, gives authorities a murder mystery to solve. The coroner holds that Allison came to his death through chloral hydrate, known as "knockout drops."

Former County Officials in Trouble.

LAWYER WINS A NOTABLE BATTLE

Albert T. Patrick Once More a Free Man.

PARDONED BY GOVERNOR DIX

New York Lawyer, Long Ago Condemned to Death on the Charge of Murdering William Marsh Rice, Finally Has Won Out in One of Most Remarkable Fights for Liberty in History of American Jurisprudence.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 28.—This morning Sing Sing prison doors opened for Albert T. Patrick, and he went forth a free man again to join his wife, who was awaiting him in New York city.

Governor Dix announced at 6 o'clock last night that he had pardoned Patrick. In 1900 the aged millionaire, William Marsh Rice, died in his New York city home under suspicious circumstances, and Lawyer Patrick was convicted of the murder and sentenced to be electrocuted. By successive appeals he staved off death while in Sing Sing death house for nearly five years, and finally, the Friday before the week during which Patrick was to be electrocuted, Governor Higgins commuted the death sentence to imprisonment for life. Now Governor Dix sets Patrick free and in doing so made this statement:

"There has always been an air of mystery in this important case. Quoting from the minority opinion, the atmosphere that surrounded the defendant showed that a fair and impartial trial was scarcely possible. I trust that Mr. Patrick will devote his energies to a complete vindication of his declared innocence. During the past year I have given much consideration to this case, and am convinced that the defendant is entitled to have a full pardon."

In the court of appeals Patrick's conviction was affirmed by a vote of four to three, and it is the minority opinion of the court of appeals which the governor refers to. Patrick's fight for freedom was the most remarkable fight ever made by a convict in the country. The legal record of it fills eight volumes. The cost to the state was hundreds of thousands of dollars.

William Marsh Rice, a childless widower, died on the evening of Sunday, Sept. 23, 1900. He had been a recluse. His only attendant was his valet, Charles F. Jones, who was arrested for murder, turned state's evidence and said that he had chloroformed Rice at Patrick's behest. Jones received immunity and was released. Not long ago it was said he had confessed, exculpating Patrick.

Patrick was a New York lawyer. It was alleged at his trial that he and Rice had never known each other, although Patrick and his wife have always contended that the millionaire had become acquainted with Patrick's skill as a lawyer and admired it.

In 1896 Mr. Rice, then eighty-six years old, had made a will leaving the bulk of his fortune to the William A. Rice Institute for the Advance of Science, Art and Literature, in Texas, to which he had already given more than $1,500,000. The theory of the prosecution was that Patrick and Jones entered into a conspiracy to forge a new will giving Patrick half of the estate, and that the will having been made, they then conspired to kill Rice.

On Oct. 4, 1900, Patrick and Valet Jones were arrested, not for murder, but for forgery, connected with Rice's second will, and a $25,000 check which it was said Patrick had tried to cash after Rice's death. They were held in $10,000 bail apiece. The intention of the county authorities was to keep the two men while the death of Rice was being investigated. Two weeks later it was announced that a chemical analysis showed that Rice had been killed by poison. The police third-degreed Jones for three days. He told them that Patrick had murdered Rice. He made what was said to be a detailed confession and then he tried to cut his throat in prison. There was no evidence that Patrick had anything to do with the maneuvers except the word of Jones.

Policeman Slain by Robbers.
Cleveland, O., Nov. 28.—Three auto bandits shot and killed Patrolman Roy E. Bouker last night after robbing and shooting up a meat market at St. Clair avenue and East Sixteenth street. The thugs had an automobile in waiting, and when the policeman tried to prevent their escape they shot him dead.

SOMETHING TO BE THANKFUL FOR

Final Report on Indiana Crops Shows Them 8 Per Cent Better Than 1911.

TWICE AS MANY POTATOES

Yield and Quality of Corn is Greatly Improved Compared With Last Year.

The Department of Agriculture has just made its final report on the bumper Indiana crops of this year. The report contains highly interesting information, based on facts and estimates submitted by a large crops of reliable Indiana correspondents.

The average condition of all crops combined, compared, first, with 1911 and, secondly, with average stands, this year, 108 per cent. as compared with 1911, or, generally, 8 per cent. better than that year, and 102 per cent. as compared with the average crop for recent years.

Indiana's yield of corn for 1912 is given at 40.5 bushels per acre, as compared with thirty-six bushels in 1911 and 36.4 as an average for the last ten years.

The Indiana crop of potatoes this year averages 114 bushels per acre, as against fifty-eight bushels last year and ten-year average of eighty-two bushels. The total Indiana production of the tubers this year is reported as 9,918,000 bushels, as against 5,162,000 bushels last year. A great improvement in quality also is noted, this year's Indiana potatoes being rated in quality at 95, as against 79 last year and a ten-year average of 86. Sweet potatoes also indicate an improvement over last year, both in yield and quality.

The Department of Agriculture also has just issued a report of special interest to Indiana farmers on the subject of lighting farm homes. Four improved lighting systems for farmhouses are presented, as the result of extensive investigations conducted by the department. These are acetylene gas, gasoline, electricity and kerosene mantle lamps. Alcohol might be considered as a lighting fuel, the department says, but, at its present price, it is prohibitive.

The department went to great lengths to try to ascertain how farm homes may be made more pleasant and attractive by proper illumination. The kerosene mantle lamp is highly recommended as economical and efficient.

"A sixteen-candle power light may be maintained, giving 17,000-candle power hours for $1," says the report, "while to give the same economy alcohol would have to sell at from 3 1/2 cents to 5 cents per gallon, as compared with the price of 59 cents. A kerosene mantle lamp with wick feed can be purchased at from $3 to $4.50, which burns satisfactorily with both alcohol and kerosene."

Acetylene is recommended as safer and more sanitary than gasoline. The cost of an acetylene plant for a farm home is estimated at $225, with an annual cost of operation of $50.

The department's "modern farm electric lighting system," is recommended as being very efficient and satisfactory, though more expensive. The cost, however, has been reduced by the advent of the tungsten lamp and the department estimates that a satisfactory electric light plant, including all equipment and labor of installation, need not exceed $550 with an annual cost of operation of $8 to $10.

Nurses Must Get Licenses.

The state board of registration and examination of nurses will soon begin an investigation to compel all professional nurses to get licenses. Many unlicensed nurses have been notified by the board that they are violating the law. The board began an examination today of seventy-five nurses who have been in training in various hospitals. The tests are held in the house of representatives at the statehouse.

NO TURKEY FOR INMATES HERE

Wards of County Had Special Thanksgiving Dinner But "H. C. L." Cuts Down Feast.

DUCK SERVED AT POOR FARM

Twelve Men in Jail Given Spread by Sheriff and Mrs. Bebout—29 at County Asylum.

If the inmates of Rush county's charitable and penal institutions were expecting turkey today for dinner they were doomed to disappointment for it was not served. But the spirit of Thanksgiving prevailed and at both the jail and county asylum special dinners were prepared. It has been the custom each year to give the unfortunates a remembrance of Thanksgiving and this plan was not overlooked today.

At the county jail Sheriff and Mrs. Bebout gave the prisoners an extra spread and the meal brought good cheer to the twelve men held there. The prisoners this year are larger in numbers than was in jail at the same time last year. Last year only two men were the guests of the sheriff for Thanksgiving dinner. Up until last Saturday only two men were behind the bars and Mrs. Bebout had hopes of spending the day with relatives but this was made impossible by other arrests.

The inmates of the county asylum were served roast duck and all the trimmings for dinner. Mr. and Mrs. John Hume, who manage the farm gave the inmates a treat and one that will long be remembered. They have several turkeys on the farm but these will be saved until Christmas. Twenty-nine inmates ate dinner there today.

Mrs. Cora Barber, matron of the Henry-Rush Orphans' Home Spiceland served her wards chicken and other dishes attractive to the appetite.

HIGH SCHOOL DIRECTORY.

Charles A. Greathouse, state superintendent of public instruction, has announced that the high school directory, to be issued from his office this year, will contain a list of the various members of the school boards in towns and cities of the state. The directory will not appear until December 1.

SARAH E. POSEY
IN LAST SLEEPWidow of Oliver Posey Answers
Death Summons Today, 12 Years
After Husband's Demise.

SICK FOR LAST FEW MONTHS

Resides in Posey Homestead Place of
Her Death, 42 Years—Born in Tiffin, Ohio.

Mrs. Sarah E. Posey, age seventy-seven years, died at her home at 612 North Main street, the old Posey homestead in which she has resided for forty-two years, shortly before noon today.

Mrs. Posey has been in very poor health for the last few months. During the last few weeks her condition has been very grave and members of her immediate family have feared the worst. Before she was compelled to remain in bed she was active and energetic, which characteristic was prominent throughout her life. She would not submit to the inevitable.

Mrs. Posey was a devout Methodist, and was consecrated to the church. When but a little while of a girl at seven years of age she united with the M. E. church at Tiffin, Ohio, her birthplace and remained true to her vows all through life, ever faithful to the creed of her early choice.

Mrs. Posey was the daughter of Col. and Mrs. J. W. Patterson of Brooklyn, New York. She was born in Tiffin, Ohio, April 11, 1835. She was reared in the home of her birth and remained there until she was married to Oliver Posey.

The marriage of Miss Patterson and Mr. Posey took place at the Patterson home in Tiffin, O., October 26, 1857. Directly afterwards, Mr. and Mrs. Posey moved to Leavenworth, Kansas where they resided several years. From there they moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, and then to Rushville in 1870 where they settled permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. Posey moved into the home in North Main street in which Mrs. Posey died today, and where her husband died twelve years ago. To the union three children were born: W. A. Posey of Washington, D. C., A. W. Posey of Spokane, Washington and Mrs. Anna D. Denning, of this city wife of Albert Denning. They all survive her, as does one brother, James G. Patterson of Indianapolis. Jefferson Carr, who is at the point of death at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alvin Moor, was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Posey's.

The funeral will probably be held some time Saturday afternoon.

RILEY SMALL IN CONCERT

Former Local Organist Will Play at
Old Melodies Musicales.

The following appeared in the Indianapolis Star this morning together with a picture of J. Riley Small, formerly of this city:

J. Riley Small is the director of the Tabernacle Church Choir and the organist there and also at the Temple. He is one of the best organists in Indianapolis and is a favorite accompanist with many of the Indianapolis singers. He will play the accompaniments for his choir and for several of the soloists who will sing at the concert of old-time melodies to be given at the Murat Theater Dec. 11 for the benefit of The Star Santa Claus Fund.

WHOOPIING COUGH IS FATAL

Infant Daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Otto Floyd Dies.

Priscilla Floyd, the six-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Floyd, died yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at their home in East Eighth street, from whooping cough. She had been ill for about a week and death was expected. The parents survive. The funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at the residence by the Rev. C. M. Yocum. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

BIG BATTLE DRAWS
CROWD OF ROOTERSMaxwell and Rushville Fight For Football Honors This Afternoon
at South Main Street Grounds.

TEAMS EVENLY MATCHED

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, Rushville and Maxwell team of Newcastle began battling for the football supremacy of eastern Indiana. A large crowd greeted the two teams and the game was expected to be a hummer. The two teams appeared to be evenly matched and which ever way the game goes it will be by a narrow margin.

Because of a lack of interest in Newcastle, a special train was not run. The Newcastle team came this morning by way of Connersville and will return this evening going by way of Shirley. The locals were not confident of winning by any means but were prepared to fight until the last. Rushville expected to spring several new plays on Maxwell while the visitors depended largely on the punting ability of Harry Shindle.

Message

TO THE NEW PRESIDENT-ELECT

At the annual Thanksgiving banquet and gambol of the Indiana Alumni Association of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, held last night at the Claypool Hotel, James E. Watson of Rushville, prominent in Republican State and National politics, proposed a toast to President-elect Woodrow Wilson, the first Phi Psi to be elected to the presidency, and on his motion it was voted to send Mr. Wilson a message of fraternal greetings, says the Indianapolis Star. Wishes for his personal success and the success of his administration were expressed in the cablegram which was sent to Mr. Wilson.

More than 200 fraternity men, including several men prominent in the affairs of the State, were present. Judge Robert M. Vanatta of Marion was toastmaster.

Herbert S. King was elected president of the association for the ensuing year, and Guernsey VanRiper was named secretary. Both live in Indianapolis.

INGRATITUDE,
BLACKEST SINBut Gratitude is Least of All
Virtues, Says The Rev. C. M.
Yocum.

AT THANKSGIVING SERVICE

Because a Man at Least Can Say,
"I Thank You"—Things to be Grateful For.

"I wonder if the world is so ungrateful today that only one out of every ten came back and returned thanks for their life," said the Rev. C. M. Yocum at the union Thanksgiving service at the Main Street Christian church this morning.

"If it is true I would be exceedingly sad. It is even more pitiable because not as many as one out of ten has come here to express our gratitude for what God has done for us."

"If you would be grateful," he continued, "visit the blind asylum where men are groping in darkness. Realize that they have never seen the glories of nature, have never looked into the eyes of their loved ones."

"You can hear. You have heard the sweet symphonies of music and the beautiful words of a mother. Then go into an asylum where there abide men who never knew the sound of anything."

"So we might go down the list of blessings and be thankful for all of them. We need to be thankful for our nation when we consider our resources." The minister quoted statistics from crop reports to prove what a bountiful year it has been and how the people, the beneficiaries, should be grateful.

"We need consider, then, not so much the material blessings as our religious and spiritual life and how it has been blessed," he said. "We have our church, our home, our public schools."

"God stands back of every good and perfect gift. Those who are present and those who are not here have been blessed. If man is the only recipient and God is the only benefactor, are there only two attitudes, gratitude and ingratitude? Are all those who are here this morning grateful and those who are not, ungrateful? I think not."

The Rev. Mr. Yocum recited stories of ingratitude taken from history. He recalled that Shakespeare had termed it "a marble hearted fiend."

Ingratitude," he continued, "breeds war, destroys friendship, ruins homes. It crucified Christ. It is the blackest sin a man can commit."

"On the other hand," he said a few minutes later, turning to the brighter side, "gratitude is the song of praise the world gives its benefactor. While ingratitude is the blackest of all the sins, gratitude is the least of all the virtues, for a man at least can say, 'I thank you.'"

"Gratitude is the humble cottage that stands by the wayside as we pass through life. In it are three windows. Through one we look out on humanity and see that all envy, discord and hatred has flown."

"Out of the second window we look on nature and see good in everything because God has created all these things for us."

"The third window opens from above, and in looking upward we stand on holy ground and repeat: 'My God I thank thee for thy loving kindness and thy tender mercies.'"

The Rev. Mr. Yocum closed with a short admonition on practicing gratitude daily by word and by deeds. The church was about half full of people for the service.

DEAD MAN DIDN'T
OBSERVE ORDEREngineer Sharkey Should Have
Stopped Passenger When Light
Was Out, Rules Say.

FACT REVEALED IN INQUIRY

C. H. & D. Trainmaster Testifies Before Marion County Coroner—
Considered Crew Competent.

Edward E. Hoffman, trainmaster of the C. H. & D. railroad, testified before Coroner Durham yesterday afternoon reviewing train rules in force on the C. H. & D. lines which may have a bearing on the wreck at Irvington November 13.

The coroner brought out a rule which provides that the absence of a switch light at a point where such a light should be must be regarded by an engineer as a stop signal. Under this ruling William Sharkey, engineer of passenger train No. 36, was required to stop his train at the east switch, which was left open by the crew of freight train No. 95.

The coroner also made a part of the record the company rules regarding the responsibility of the care of switches when trains take sidings. The rules quoted by Mr. Hoffman in the record and on which the coroner will base his verdict, are as follows: "Switches must be left in proper condition after having been used. Conductors are responsible for the position of the switches used by them and their trainmen except where the switch tenders are stationed. A switch must not be left open for a following train unless in charge of a trainman of such train."

"When a train backs in on a siding to meet or to be passed by another train, the engineer when his train is in the clear, must see that the switch is properly set for the main track. Enginemen must know that switches are properly set before they pull in or out of siding or other tracks."

"A signal imperfectly displayed or the absence of a signal at a place where a signal is usually shown must be regarded a stop signal and the fact reported to the superintendent."

Coroner Durham asked: "Did you consider this crew in charge of train No. 95, east-bound freight, including P. J. Hines, conductor; Willis York, engineer; E. F. Cox, rear brakeman; Carl Gross, front brakeman, and Fred Emberton, fireman, competent to perform the duties required of them?"

Mr. Hoffman answered: "Yes, sir."

WAS DESERTED VILLAGE

Practically Every Place of Business
Closed By Noon Today.

Rushville was a deserted village this afternoon. By noon practically every place of business in the city, with few exceptions, was closed. All offices in the court house, saloons and banks and many business houses were closed all day. Drug stores and a number of business houses were to be opened late this afternoon. A large crowd of people attended the football game while a much larger crowd remained indoors and enjoyed the holiday.

CALL OF THE GAME WAS LOUD

Many Take Advantage of Weather to Go Hunting.

The call of the game and the gun was heard by a small army of men in Rushville and Rush county today, the proverbial time for hunting expeditions. Yesterday afternoon the hunting license business in the clerk's office had a big boom and business was rushing. Many hunters called and added their dollar so that there hunting would be perfectly legal. The day was ideal for hunting. Several members of the Rushville Gun club went to Morristown to attend the turkey day shoot given by the club there.

HOPE TO REACH
OVER 10,000 PEOPLEShort Courses Will be Held by Purdue in More Than Twenty Counties.

LIVE STOCK FOR SCHOOLS

The Agricultural Extension Department of Purdue University will hold, during the winter, 'Short Courses for farmers and their wives, in more than twenty counties of the State. The instruction will be as practical as possible and no expense is being spared to place it on a high plane.

For use in the work, a carload of live stock, consisting of two pure bred Belgian mares, three steers, two dairy cows, four hogs and four sheep is being furnished by the University. Several instructors give the lectures and demonstrations in Crops, Soils, Live Stock, Dairying, Horticulture, Poultry and Domestic Science.

The localities in which the Courses are held furnish the halls free and pay all local expenses.

During the winter it is hoped that more than 10,000 people will be reached with these movable schools.

lars to Get Estimate on Proposed Patronage.

MAILED TO LOCAL PATRONS

Circulars explaining the rates and purposes of the parcels post system were received yesterday at the post-office to be sent to prospective patrons. They are asked to fill out blanks telling to what extent they expect to use the post and these circulars will be returned to the department at Washington. From these, plans for the installation of the system here will be made.

WILL THEY HAVE A HAPPY XMAS?Daily Republican Santa Claus Fund
Will Help Bring Joy to Little
Tots' Hearts.

IF THE PEOPLE WILL ASSIST

Unprecedented Past Success of Venture
Practically Assures it For
The Future.

Today's Thanksgiving. Four weeks from yesterday is Christmas.

On that day the Daily Republican Santa Clause fund, made possible by the many kind and thoughtful friends of the poor little folks of Rushville, will make glad the youngsters of Rushville who would not likely have a happy Christmas otherwise.

Yes, the Daily Republican will have a Santa Claus fund this year. Already, even at this early date, many people have called at the Daily Republican office to inquire if the fund is to be handled by the Daily Republican this year. The keen interest in the custom has caused the management of the fund to realize what a disappointment it would be not only to the children but also to the people who desire the privilege to give if the fund were not continued.

Contributions to the fund may be made at any time now. The first list of contributors will not be made public until the first of next week. Then every day the contributions, with the names of the contributors, will be published up until Christmas eve.

That the Daily Republican Santa Claus fund has been and is popular with the people of Rushville and Rush county is proved by a brief summary of the growth that it has made in three years.

The fund was first instituted in 1909. Then it was an infant treading on new untraced territory. It was a task, it is true, that the manager of the fund had not contemplated, but when once started it was decided to carry it out to the minutest detail. When the success of the first attempt was seen, and the gladness which it brought to the hearts of the poor little tots of Rushville was apparent, it was decided that the fund would be carried on from year to year, provided that the people of the city and county would lend their helpful assistance in making it possible.

A total sum of $152.32 was contributed in 1909. Last year the total was $179.18, a gain in two years of $26.86. In 1910 the total amount contributed was $155.16, a gain over the first year of $2.84. The gain last year over 1910 was $24.02.

LOST WATCH IS FOUND.

Gone forever was the belief of John Kuntz, residing north of Manilla, of a watch which he lost last October a year ago, while husking corn in one of the fields on his farm. The watch was of the olden make and had a sterling silver case. But he was wrong, for yesterday while husking corn in the same field, much to his delight, as he was reaching over to pick up an ear he found the lost watch. After wiping the dirt from the case he found the watch and it immediately started to run and is now keeping good time.

My Daddy-in-Law, John W. (Buck) Tompkins, told a friend, in speaking of me, that the only reason I hadn't paved the streets with GOLD BRICKS from the store to my residence was lack of Funds.

LITERARY SIDE OF MINE EXPLOITATION

More About the Case of Hawthorne and Others.

New York, Nov. 28.—Some of the letters written by Julian Hawthorne, who dropped literature to take up the exploitation of a mine, as he expressed it, were read to the jury which is trying the novelist and his associates—ex-Mayor Quincy of Boston, Dr. William J. Morton and Albert Freeman, the mining promoter—all of whom are charged with having swindled the public out of millions of dollars by fraudulent use of the mails.

The "literature" submitted to the jury dealt mainly with the Temagami-Cobalt mine. Mr. Hawthorne did not stint his praise of the Temagami, its prospects and the fortunes to be made out of it. For instance, he informed one woman, a prospective investor, that an "investment of $2,000 (in the stock of the Temagami company) would make one independently rich."

After the jury had listened to a glowing description of the Temagami, Colin Timmins, who has been a miner in this country and Mexico for thirty years, told of a visit to Ontario to see the Temagami mine. He said he was met by Dr. Morton, who took him to the mine. He said he could find no trace of gold or silver, but saw some copper scattered through the rock.

F. H. Morley, a mining engineer, also testified with regard to a visit to the mine. Dr. Morton received him and accompanied him over the ground. Witness also was unable to find any evidence of silver or gold.

FOGEL WILL FIGHT

Ousted Baseball Magnate Will Appeal to the Courts.

New York, Nov. 28.—Unless the courts come to his assistance, Horace S. Fogel, former president of the Philadelphia baseball club, will be unable to represent that or any other club in the councils of the National League. Fogel, who has been on trial before the members of the league charged with attacking the honesty of the game and the integrity of President Lynch and several umpires, was found guilty after a long session and was practically expelled from organized baseball. In rendering the verdict the league stood 7 to 1 for conviction, but the magnates were extremely careful in wording the penalty in order to guard against court proceedings which Fogel says will be instituted immediately.

Auto Driver Refused License Shoots Head of London Police.

London, Nov. 28.—Commissioner of Police Henry of London was shot and probably fatally wounded last night. Two shots were fired. His assailant was arrested.

Sir Edward Henry was shot just as he was about to enter his home in Kensington, by a man named Albert Bowes, aged twenty-five, who had a grievance against Scotland Yard because it refused to issue an auto driver's license to him on the ground that he had been convicted of drunkenness.

Echo of Wet and Dry Fight

Frankfort, Ind., Nov. 28.—Everett Hopkins is on trial charged with assault and battery with intent to kill Rev. James C. Burkhardt, pastor of the First Christian church, on July 20 last. The attack was the result of the wet and dry liquor issue here. The state is insisting upon a prison sentence, while the defense will attempt to prove the attack upon the minister was not with intent to kill.

Mrs. Emma Maier, 627 N. 7th St., Springfield, Ill., says her kidney trouble resulted from an operation: "From then until I used Foley Kidney Pills I did not know what a well day was. Then my backache left me, that tired dragged down feeling was gone, I slept soundly and awoke refreshed. I had no more headache or dizzy spells." Safe and sure. Try them.

TURK TAKES ON A NEW COURAGE

Rejects Proposals Submitted By the Allies.

PEACE STILL SITTING AFAR OFF

The Manner in Which the Ottoman Armies Have Clung to Their Various Positions Gives Nazim Pasha and Representatives of Porte Courage to Refuse to Submit to Initial Demands of Allied Balkan Forces.

Vienna, Nov. 28.—The negotiations which are proceeding at Tehataldja are preliminary to peace, not to an armistice, but the outcome is doubtful. Turkey refuses to surrender Adrianople, Scutari and Janina. She also refuses to pay a war indemnity. Bulgaria is unable to break the Tehataldja line without sacrificing 40,000 men. Mediation by the powers is under consideration. The Russian ambassador at Constantinople is endeavoring to reconcile the views of the belligerents.

London, Nov. 28.—It now seems probable that negotiations for peace between the Balkan allies and Turkey, reported to have been started at Bagheshah, Turkey, will not result in the peaceful conclusion of hostilities that had been hoped for, according to news that has been received from the various European capitals.

The fact that the Turkish forces have so long been able to hold Adrianople against such terrific odds and the fact that the Montenegrins have not been able to pierce the defenses of Scutari, give the Turks some ground for refusing to comply with the demands of the allies that these two towns, as well as Janina, be surrendered. The strength of the Turks' position behind the Tehataldja line also gives him courage in refusing to submit to the demands of the allies.

But in spite of these dark predictions as to the failure of negotiations, the tension throughout Europe has been perceptibly lessened.

The belief that Germany, France and Great Britain will succeed in averting the conflict toward which they seemed for a few days to be tending, has grown. Diplomats see a reason to be especially hopeful over the report that Austro-Hungary has agreed to allow Serbia a seaport on the Adriatic as well as to the question about the future of Albania. If this comes true a dangerous pressure has been removed.

The reports which come here from Constantinople are not encouraging to those who are looking for the immediate solution of the Balkan question by the peace allies, now said to be deliberating. Nazim Pasha and one of the representatives of the porte rejected the proposals submitted, and in turn gave out counter proposals.

A special correspondent in Vienna says: "Optimism reigns in Austria-Hungary now. The search for elements of composure is general and every political incident, trivial or indifferent, receives correspondingly favorable interpretation. Turkish reserves are arriving daily from Asia Minor. They are well fed and well clad and full of vigor. Under these circumstances the Turkish negotiators will refuse to discuss the surrender of Adrianople, Scutari and Janina. No greater error could have been committed than to attempt to impose such hard conditions on a country which still possesses vast military reserves and which only needs to carry on the war another month to counteract the splendid victories of the allies and turn the tables on Bulgaria. Greece is wisely moderate and will benefit correspondingly. The Russian ambassador at Constantinople is working hard to reconcile the conflicting views of the belligerents and hopes to succeed."

EXHIBIT TO PLAY IMPORTANT PART

Will be One of the Interesting Features of Indiana Better Roads Convention in Indianapolis.

DEMONSTRATIONS TO BE MADE

Displays From U. S. Department of Public Roads And From Purdue University to be Seen.

What promises to be one of the most interesting features of the Indiana better roads convention at the German House in Indianapolis, Dec. 11, 12 and 13, is the exhibit of machinery and equipment used in road construction and maintenance, together with practical demonstrations of the methods employed in the scientific construction of highways. Chief among the displays will be those from the department of public roads at Washington, D. C., of which Logan Waller Page is director; and that of Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

The national government exhibit was shown recently at Atlantic City at the convention of the American Good Roads Congress, where it was viewed by thousands of persons. It was easily the most attractive feature of the convention. The exhibit also has been shown in many other parts of the country. It formed one of the chief attractions on a good roads train that traveled thousands of miles, principally in the western states. As everything will be free it is the belief of those in charge of the arrangements that thousands of Hoosiers will avail themselves of the opportunity to view the display.

Replies received by the committee on arrangements for the convention indicate that interest in the meeting is manifest in every part of the state. More than 750 delegates have been appointed by public officials, commercial and trade organizations, and other bodies. This number is expected to reach at least 4,000 within the next few days. It is not necessary, however, to be a delegate to attend the convention.

The program practically has been completed. Addresses of welcome will be made at the opening session by Governor Marshall, Governor Ralston, Mayor Samuel Lewis Shank and former vice-president Charles W. Fairbanks. Men of nation-wide prominence have been obtained to present the different sides of the road construction and maintenance problem.

The promoters of the convention hope that an overwhelming sentiment in favor of a better roads law will be crystallized as a result of the convention. With this end in view an especial effort has been made to induce each member of the General Assembly, which convenes in June, to attend.

The convention is being given under the auspices of the commercial and trade organizations of Indianapolis. Present indications are that the attendance will reach 5,000. A surprisingly large number of letters have been received by the committee in charge from men in every station of life who indorse the convention idea heartily and who say they will attend and also ask their friends and associates to do likewise.

The program was arranged so that there will be ample room for the discussion of the questions that are expected to arise from the different subjects that will be presented by the good roads experts.

VISIT KNIGHTSTOWN HOME.

Representative of the State W. R. C. visited the Orphans' Home at Knightstown a few days ago in an official capacity. There are now more than 400 children at the home and good health and contentment prevail, according to report of the visitors. Grandchildren of soldiers are now admitted on the same basis as were the children of soldiers until recently.

Mr. Hiram Steele, 628 N. 6th St., Terre Haute, Ind., writes, "I came down with a severe case of Kidney trouble. I had to get up too often at night, there was pain and much sediment, puffs under my eyes, back pained terribly, and I was dizzy. Foley Kidney Pills cured me quickly, and I feel 100 per cent better."

STAYING WITH IT.

Decatur Herald: The Indianapolis Star does well to chide the Republican newspapers for hot words spoken in the political campaign, but some one should remind it that they are much more excusable than the discordant and ungracious utterances of the Star towards Republicans since the election ended.

Twinges of rheumatism, backache, stiff joints and shooting pains all show your kidneys are not working right. Urinary irregularities, loss of sleep, nervousness, weak back and sore kidneys tell the need of a good reliable kidney medicine. Foley-Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and restorative. They build up the kidneys and regulate their action. They will give you quick relief and contain no habit forming drugs.

Special Demonstration

And Sale of Great Majestic Ranges

ONE WEEK ONLY November 25th to 30th ONE WEEK ONLY

SAVE $8.00

As a special inducement during our demonstration week only, with every MAJESTIC RANGE sold (prices always the same) we will give free one handsome set of ware as illustrated here.

Every piece of this ware is the best of its kind. Not a piece that is not needed in every kitchen. It cannot possibly be bought for less than $8.00. This ware is on exhibition at our store. DON'T FAIL TO SEE IT.

SPECIAL

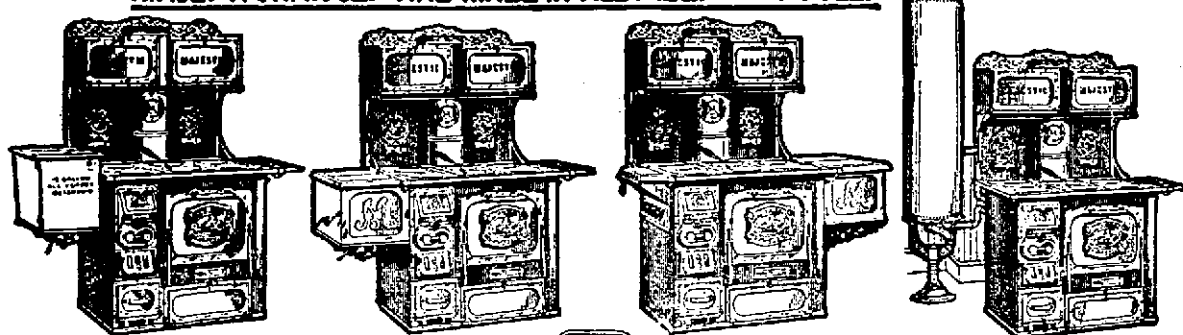

All during this week a special demonstrator direct from the MAJESTIC FACTORY will be glad to show you "ALL ABOUT RANGES" SHOW YOU why the MAJESTIC is the best range on earth at any price.

Come, If You Intend To Buy or Not

EDUCATION lies in KNOWING THINGS KNOW why the oven of a range is heated—KNOW how the water is heated HOW the top is heated—WHY the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel—KNOW how a range is made inside and outside. This education may serve you in the future. DON'T OVERLOOK a chance to KNOW THINGS shown by one who knows. COME.

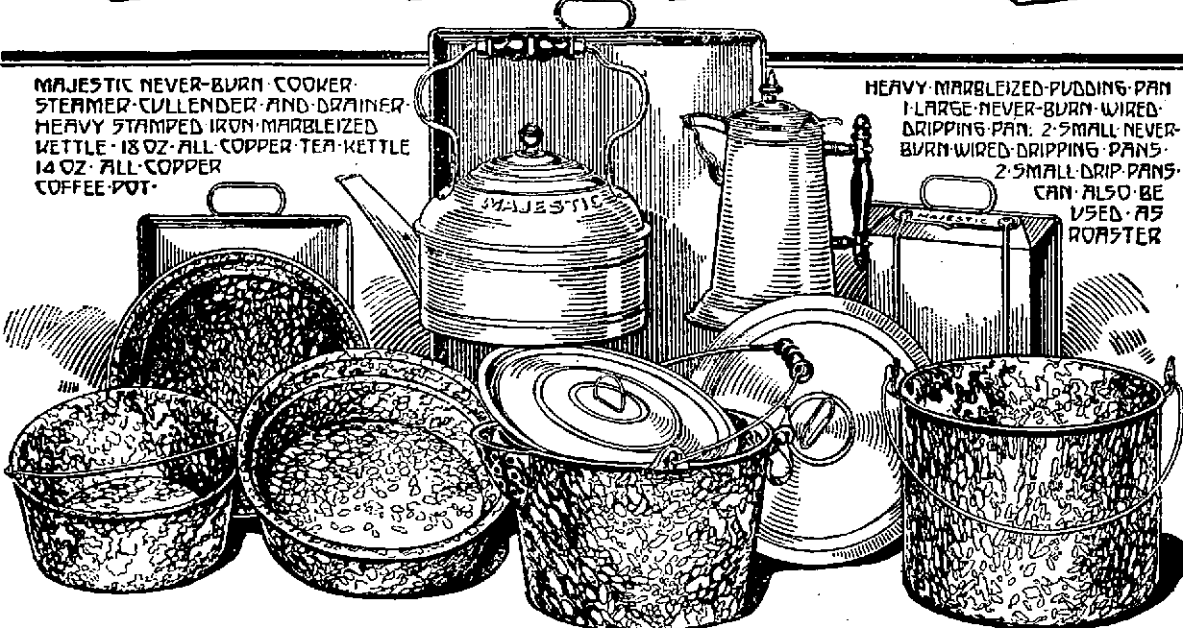

Set of Ware FREE

MAJESTIC RANGES ARE MADE IN ALL SIZES AND STYLES

MAJESTIC NEVER-BURN COOKER-STEAMER-CULLENDER AND DRAINER HEAVY STAMPED IRON-MARBLEIZED KETTLE-18 OZ. ALL-COPPER TEA-KETTLE 14 OZ. ALL-COPPER COFFEE-POT

HEAVY MARBLEIZED PUDDING-PAN 1-LARGE-NEVER-BURN-WIRED-DIPPING-PAN 2-SMALL-NEVER-BURN-WIRED-DIPPING-PANS 2-SMALL-DIP-PANS CAN ALSO BE USED AS ROASTER

Which Shall It Be?

Do you intend to continue laboring, burning valuable fuel and destroying high priced food with that old worn out cook stove?

You know that old stove eats up a lot of fuel each year.

You know you have trouble in getting it to bake just right, in fact, spoil a batch of bread every once in a while—you know it costs considerable for yearly repairs.

Stop and think and figure.

Wouldn't it pay you to buy a good range—a range with a reputation—

The Great Majestic and Malleable Charcoal Iron Range.

You make no mistake in buying the GREAT MAJESTIC—it's the range with THE REPUTATION—ask your neighbors. Then, too, it's made just right and of the right kind of material—MALLEABLE and CHARCOAL IRON—riveted together practically air tight—lined with pure asbestos board—parts being malleable can't break—has a moveable reservoir and an oven that don't warp—that's why the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel, bakes just right every day in the year (browns bread just right all over without turning,) heats 15 gal. water while breakfast is cooking—properly handled lasts a lifetime, costs practically nothing for repairs.

Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime "unsight unseen," you'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during demonstration week, see the GREAT MAJESTIC—have its many exclusive features explained—find out why the MAJESTIC is 300% stronger than other ranges where most ranges are weakest.

Don't Overlook the Date. This is a Special Invitation to You and Your Friends and Neighbors

Quicken Our Gratitude.

Whose heart is quickened today to even passing thankfulness for what has come to him or her during the year past, should be thankful for the quickening. And for things missed that were desired there may well be thanksgiving in one's heart. William Dean Howells once voiced in verse the idea—

"Lord for the erring thought
Not into evil wrought;
For the heart from itself kept,
Our thanksgiving accept.
For ignorant hopes that were
Broken to our blind prayer:
For pain, death, sorrow, sent—
Unto our chastisement;
For all loss seeming good,
Quicken our gratitude."

Thanksgiving as a formal, established annual custom has fallen away in observance, mayhap. As a day it is now little different from another holiday. Its older meaning has been submerged. There must be a union religious service of thanksgiving, because few of the congregations could muster any attendance of the individual members at their own place of worship. It is a day of feasting and football and social pleasures. And all that is well. For thousands of years human beings have made rejoicing annually after the ingathering from nature of its harvests. That was the beginning of Thanksgiving days. We count it from the first Thanksgiving, a prayer service, in the winter of 1621, on the call of Governor Bradford by the Pilgrim fathers on the bleak, snow-bound, storm-swept coast of Massachusetts. Yet the older colony at Jamestown in Virginia had its Thanksgiving, too.

It was a woman who crystallized the matter and set it for all time for the last Thursday of each November. She was Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, editor in the 'sixties of that very notable periodical, Godey's Lady Book, in Philadelphia, and following her suggestion in 1864, President Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday of that year of much trial to the people of these United States, south and north, as to be set apart publicly for a rendering of thanks to the God of both blessings and battles for all the land and its people had received of His providence.

It is an occasion of joy, befitting all expressions of gratitude. And the feasting is not the least of it. It is a day of homecoming for the boys and girls that are away paddling their own canoes in streams afar from home all the workaday year. Family reunions form the pleasantest features of the day, and even the lonely one in boarding house or restaurant has pleasure in knowing and catching glimpses of the reminding of broken home ties. It is a day of memories for everybody, in jail or free, at work or on holiday. And days like these are worth while. And the Republican hopes that all its friends and all its enemies, if any there be in enmity toward it, have had and are enjoying a delightful Thanksgiving day. It is a day of sweet charity, too. There are sorrows and pains in the world, but today they should be soothed or banished, as they can be. And in material things the spirit is gladdened. Remember Whittier's line of how the eye brightens at sight of a rich pumpkin pie:

"Ah, on Thanksgiving day, when from east and from west
From north and from south come the pilgrim and guest,
When the care-wearied man sees his mother once more
And the worn matron smiles where the girl smiled—before
What moistens the lips and what brightens the pie
What calls the past back like a rich pumpkin pie?"

Rushville folks collectively and individually have lots to be thankful for, and not the least of the gifts coming daily to man is a realizing sense of what a blessing was bestowed on him when he failed to get something he held a while ago as the dearest of his heart's desires.

Taft has instituted 71 suits against trusts. Roosevelt, Cleveland, McKinley and Harrison in all instituted 61. No wonder Perkins was willing to put up.

Once Turkey owned a good share of Europe, and now if they make peace terms quick, they may have the bath houses that line the Bosphorus.

Congressman Gray's plan for post-office aspirants is no different than any other. Somebody's due to get it in the neck.

Some sweet feminine voice told us over the telephone this morning that they were reading our column on a bet. Now isn't that the dearest thing? She ought to lose.

It is not true, Clarabelle, that you can bring your best bean to time by wearing his picture in your watch.

The government is going to reduce the size of paper bills and at the same time install faster presses. As you were about to remark, bills will be cheaper and come faster. That is SOME improvement.

The home of Oneal Brothers, which'll get your pelt if you don't watch out, has favored this Colyum with a poem, to be pronounced poem. They prefer it to be called "When the Bull Moosers Are Going to Win." It matters little to us. Here it is:

When storm buggies don't keep out the cold,

When new fertilizer is better than old,

When Tarplee refuses to go into the snow,

Sam Sanderson Says:

That to be thankful today, one need only go out into the sunlight.

When Oneals don't put on an animal show,
When Lewis Clark can't win ten to one,
When two dollar bills don't lay out in the sun,
When the writer looks good to Philip Heeb for 35 cents,
When everybody quits buying Shimer wire fence,
When 2,000 pounds don't make a ton,
Then you can bet it, ten to one.

SOCIETY NEWS

The women of the Manilla Christian church entertained with a masquerade social in the Trees hall in Manilla last night.

The members of the 1908 and the 1909 classes of the Manilla high school will give a banquet in Manilla tonight in honor of the former principal of the high school, Edgar Stiers. Mr. Stiers is now cashier of the Gwynneville bank.

The Goodfellowship club dance this evening at the Modern Woodmen hall promises to be one of the best dances given here in recent years. The Trueblood orchestra of Bloomington will furnish the music and the grand march will start promptly at nine o'clock. The dance is private, being for club members only.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hubbard, the Misses Helen Sexton, Marie Crosby, Bertha Walker, Ruby Amos, Helen Douglas of Knightstown and Mary Seitz of Greensburg and Elmer Williams, Howard Fenton of Anderson, Allen Hiner, Ruby Davis, Allen H. Blackledge and Will B. Brann composed a party that took Thanksgiving dinner at Mrs. Jennie Reed's in Orange.

Miss Inez Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Reynolds, 620 West Fifth street, and Roy Saunders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Saunders, 624 West Fifth street, went to Shelbyville yesterday afternoon and were married at the Baptist church parsonage there by the Rev. M. T. Markland. Last evening a reception was held at the Reynolds home and was attended by Mrs. Mary Webster of Kansas City, Ill., aunt of the bride; James Reynolds and son, Benton, of St. Louis, Mo., uncle and cousin of the bride; Gilbert Palmer of DuPont, Ind., a cousin of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Steven Palmer and Miss Edith Aull of this city.

Miss Claudia Armstrong of Eaton, Ind., well known by the younger set of Rushville, and Elbert Lathrope, also well known here, were married Tuesday evening at the bride's home by the father of the bridegroom, the Rev. Mr. Lathrope. The young women of the wedding party were all members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority which society Miss Armstrong affiliated while a student in DePauw university where she was graduated. Miss Helen Scarce of Mooreville, who has visited here often, was the maid of honor. Miss Laura Jackson of Chicago and Miss Nancy Hadley of Plainfield were the bridesmaids. Harry Armstrong of Eaton, brother of the bride, was best man. Miss Loewin Miller of Eaton played the wedding march and Miss Play Shields of Eaton sang "Because."

The wedding colors were pink and blue, colors of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity of which the bridegroom is a member. He is a graduate of DePauw university. Refreshments of ice cream were served. The home was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms and chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Lathrope spent yesterday in Muncie and returned to Eaton today for Thanksgiving at the Armstrong home. They will leave the latter part of the week for Washington, D. C. where they will be at home. Among those from here attending the wedding were the Misses Vera Winship and Fanny Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Root and Mrs. W. H. Amos.

James Therio, Iron River, Mich., says of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound: "This winter both my children and I were troubled with bad coughs. We used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and it promptly cured us. I recommend it as a good cough and cold cure." Contains no opiates.

AMUSEMENTS

The Palace will show the feature picture entitled "When Uncle Sam Was Young." It is a "101 Bison" 3 reel picture and depicts stirring scenes from the colonial days, such as Bunker Hill, Boston Tea Party, Declaration of Independence, Battle of Concord and Lexington, Washington at Valley Forge, etc.

The matinee and night program at the Princess theater is for the benefit of the degree team of Franklin lodge, No. 35 of Odd Fellows. "The Blighted Son," in four reels, was the offering. For tomorrow night the Portola will show "The Sleeper," a Lubin drama, "Captain Barnacles Wait," a Vitagraph, and "Hearts and Diamonds," an Edison.

The Princess has an excellent program to offer patrons Thanksgiving night. Maurice Costello will be seen in "The Adventures of the Italian Model," a Vitagraph drama that is scarcely a parallel in recent pictures. "His Pair of Pants" is a Lubin comedy that is commended to motion picture patrons for its humorous situations. Arthur Johnson will be seen in a picture tomorrow night.

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

THE ROOT OF EVIL

Copyright, 1911, by Thomas Dixon

"I speak today, your honor, in behalf of the man who crouches by my side overwhelmed with shame and grief and conscious dishonor because he took a paltry package of jewelry from a man who has never added one penny to the wealth of the world and yet has somehow gotten possession of one hundred million dollars from those who could not defend themselves from his strength and cunning. This man stands before you now with no shame in his soul, no tears on his cheeks, and with brazen effrontery demands vengeance on a weaker brother.

"Two men are on trial, not one. The majesty of the law has already been vindicated in the tear stained plea that has been entered. Between these two men the court must decide.

"This millionaire who demands vengeance against this broken man today has an income greater than the combined crowned heads of Europe and wields a scepter mightier than czar or emperor. Why? He levies each year millions of taxes without consulting this court, the legislature or any man who walks the earth. He does this by a machine for printing paper tokens of value called stocks. The essence of theft is to take the property of another without giving a return. A green goods man sells printed paper for money. This might man also sells printed paper for money. What is the difference? Neither the green goods nor the bogus capital called watered stock represents a dollar in real value.

"This modern raider whom we have enthroned as our ruler everywhere, from every one, seizes, tears and despoils the fruits of toil, has never added a penny to the wealth of humanity. And what do we find him doing? In the midst of poverty that means hunger and nakedness, disease and death, we have the shameless flaunting of insane luxury. And to what purpose? To challenge the envy of the vain and the foolish, to dazzle the minds of the poor and inflame the lusts of the criminal.

"Do we believe that such things are the decrees of a just and loving God who created this world? These things are not the result of his law, but the results of the violation of law." The speaker paused, drew close to the judge and then in low, impassioned tones told as if he were talking to a father the story of Woodman's life and the events which drove him to madness on the fatal night of his crime. In flashes of vivid eloquence he described the magnificent ball and drew in somber, heart-breaking contrast the desolation and despair of a proud and sensitive man made desperate by want and ruin, the man who had given his blood to his country and his daily life in an unselfish ministry to the homeless and friendless.

"I do not ask of your honor," he cried in ringing tones, "the repeal of the law against theft—thou shalt not steal! I only ask the suspension of its penalty on this heartbroken man until we can extend it to his oppressors as well, until its thunder shall also echo through the palaces of the rich—thou shalt not steal!"

"The man who has fallen was weak and poor. The man who demands his life is rich and powerful. I ask for a heartbroken man another chance. I ask this court to suspend all sentence against the poor bruised and bleeding spirit that lies in tears at our feet today."

The judge wheeled in his armchair, cleared his throat and looked out of the window to hide from the crowd a tear that had stolen down his furrowed cheek.

He turned at length to Bivens' lawyers and quietly asked:

"The state insists on the enforcement of sentence without mercy?"

"Absolutely," was the sharp answer.

"This is your desire, Mr. Bivens?"

"Yes," the financier fiercely replied.

"And yet you say that you are a Christian. Well, see to it. Your Master says:

"He that saith I love God and hateth his brother is a liar." Henry Woodman, stand up! The judgment of this court is that sentence in your case be suspended so long as you obey the law.

"And I may say to you, Henry Woodman, that my faith is profound that you will never appear in this court again. And if you ever need the help of a friend you'll find one if you come to me. You are a free man."

Stuart hurried the doctor out of the crowd. He had important work yet to do. He determined that no story of the scene should ever be printed in a New York paper. He would save Harriet that too.

As the court adjourned Bivens cursed his lawyers in a paroxysm of helpless rage. Then he suddenly threw his hand to his forehead, staggered and sank to the floor.

A doctor who was near rushed to his side and lifted his head into his wife's arms.

"What is it? Has he fainted, doctor?" she whispered, glancing toward the door through which Stuart had just passed.

"He has had a stroke of paralysis, madam, I fear," was the answer.

Stuart's appeal to the New York papers in behalf of Harriet was successful. For a week he bought every morning and evening edition and read them eagerly. Not a line appeared to darken the life of his little pal.

Bivens' illness shook the financial world. The men who had professed their friendship most loudly to his face now sharpened their knives for his wounded body. Every stock with which his name was linked was the target of the most savage attacks. The tumbling of values in his securities carried down the whole market from five to six points in a single day.

The great palace that had a few nights before blazed with lights and echoed with music, laughter, song and dance and clinking glasses, stood dark and silent behind its bristling iron fence.

Within the darkened palace the doctors were supreme. In his great library they held consultation after consultation and secretly smiled when they thought of the figures they would write on his bills. They disagreed in details, but all agreed on the main conclusion—that the only hope was that he should quit work and play for several years.

When they made this solemn announcement to Bivens, he smiled for the first time. It was too good a joke. How could he play? He knew but one game, the big game of the man hunt! He told his doctors he would go to Europe and see if there were doctors over there who knew anything.

The shaking, miserable little figure staggered up the gangplank of a steamer. He made a brave show of strength to the reporters who swarmed about him for an interview and collapsed in the arms of his wife on reaching his staterooms.

He had forgotten his resentment on account of Woodman in the presence of the Great Terror, whose shadow had suddenly darkened the world.

The young lawyer had said goodby to Nan with a sense of profound relief. From the bottom of his soul he thanked God she was going away.

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases, but it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged. This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the well known liquid eczema remedy, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription. We have sold other remedies for skin troubles but none that we can recommend as highly as this for we know that D.D.D. stops the itch at once. We just want you to give D.D.D. a trial. That will be enough to prove it. Of course all other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute. But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee—If you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent. Lytle's Drug Store. Rushville.

STUART returned with renewed energy and enthusiasm to the practice of law. The wide fame he had achieved as district attorney brought him the best clients and from them he was able to choose only the cases which involved principles worth fighting for. His spare time he gave in a loving effort to restore the doctor to his old cheerful frame of mind. He had returned Bivens' money in spite of his protest and made his old friend a loan sufficient for his needs, taking his personal note for security.

F. B. JOHNSON & COMPANY

He had no difficulty in learning the progress of Bivens in his search of Europe for health. The daily cabled reports to New York always gave his condition as better. But Stuart knew the truth. He received two or three letters a week from Nan. She had told him in full detail the little man's suffering, and at last of his homesickness, fast developing into a mania.

He was not surprised at the end of three months to hear her familiar voice over his telephone.

"Yes, we've returned, Jim—called incognito to escape the reporters. He is very feeble. We haven't been in the house three hours, but he has asked for you a dozen times. Can you come up at once?"

Stuart hesitated, then, "I'll come," he answered slowly.

He lost all sense of danger in the warmth and tenderness of Nan's greeting. He not only forgot his fears but reproached himself for his low estimate of her character in supposing that she would allow herself or permit him to cross the line of danger. Her solicitude for Bivens seemed deep and genuine.

Bivens' joy at meeting Stuart was pathetic, and moved him deeply. He was surprised to find him so strong, apparently, in body and yet so broken in spirit.

The little shrunken hand clung to his friend's.

"You know, I felt the thing creeping on me for the past two years, but I couldn't let up. That's why I tried so hard to put some of the load on your shoulders. At least you can help me to get well. To the devil with the doctors! I'm tired, too, of all the symptoms, liars and fools who hang around. I didn't mind 'em when I was well. But they get on my nerves now. The doctors kept dinning into my ears that I've got to rest and play, and finally one old duffer over in France put an idea into my head that brought me back home to see you. He told me to get on a small boat with a single nurse and a congenial friend, get away from land, cut every telephone and telegraph line, get no mail, and shoot ducks all winter, and he'd guarantee I'd be a new man next spring. I've sent for you to accept the invitation you gave me to shoot ducks with you down in Virginia."

"What invitation?" Stuart asked in surprise.

"Why, the one you used to reproach me for not accepting. Will you go with me now?"

Stuart shook his head.

"I can't go," he said slowly.

Bivens hadn't said Nan must go on that trip, but in a flash of warning intuition he knew it. The danger of such a situation on a yacht would be real and only a fool would rush into it.

"Can't go? Why?" the financier asked in tones of genuine distress.

"I've important legal business. There's no use in my going. I can tell you exactly where to go, the guides to get and the kind of boats you'll need. You'll get along better without me."

"Tells the whole story."

To say that Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is best for children and grown persons and contains no opiates tells only part of the tale. The whole story is that it is the best medicine for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis and other affections of the throat, chest and lungs. Stops la-grippe coughs and has a healing and soothing effect. BOND QUESTION CAUSES FLURRY

Alleged Dynamiters Not Adequately Insured.

CONTENTION OF PROSECUTION

Discovery That Attorneys For Some of Defendants in Dynamite Trial, Who Had Given Bond For Their Clients, Had Been Indemnified by Surety Companies Results in the Bonds Being Declared Invalid.

Indianapolis, Nov. 28.—In the dynamiting cases it developed that a number of the defendants have given bonds with their attorneys as security and that in a number of cases these attorneys, before going on the bonds, demanded that they be indemnified. Judge Anderson said the bonds were clearly illegal, as the supreme court had so held. It is understood that several of the defendants cannot give bonds, and under these circumstances they will have to go to jail.

United States Attorney Miller said that he had been informed that Harding, Hovey & Newman, attorneys for the defense, who were on the bonds of certain defendants had been indemnified by cash being placed in their hands. He asked the question in open court of these attorneys if it were not true. Mr. Harding preferred to take up the matter outside the courtroom, but Judge Anderson said:

"I am not doing things outside the courtroom. What is done in this trial will be done in open court."

Mr. Miller said the quickest way was for the attorneys to answer the question at once, for if they did not he would see that it was answered by them.

Mr. Harding said his firm was holding $10,000 indemnity. He said Mr. Hovey, Mr. Newman and he had become liable to a total extent of $57,000, and that when the $30,000 point was reached they had insisted that they be indemnified to the extent of $10,000. Hockin was among the first three for whom the attorneys became sureties, but his bond has been increased and he is in jail. Nearly all the defendants have given surety company bonds, and it is said that the bonds were not executed until after deposits of cash had been made.

In referring to Mr. Harding's statement that the firm of attorneys held only $10,000, Mr. Miller remarked:

"That means they lose nothing if only two defendants for whom they are surety should run away."

Opposed to Public Policy.

Judge Anderson said that as the question had been up in the federal court before, he thought there was no question about the illegality of bonds, when the bondsman was indemnified.

"In other words," said the judge, "if I am on a man's bond for $10,000 and I take $10,000 when I go on his bond, I have no interest whatever in seeing that he is here. The bondsman can snap his fingers at the court. He loses nothing."

"The reason that it is not legal that a bondsman should be indemnified is that it is against public policy to have for bondsman persons who have no interest in seeing the defendants in court. I will say now that the surety company bonds were accepted by the marshal. Had the bonds been offered in open court I would not have accepted them."

"Had Mr. Harding and Mr. Hovey and Mr. Newman offered to become surety to me I would not have accepted it. I do not desire to see attorneys of this court on bonds of defendants."

If the bonds are declared invalid it probably will mean a big addition to the colony of defendants, Hockin, Smythe and Ray, now in jail because of inability to furnish bond.

The cross-examination of Ortie McManigal was completed and he left the stand, but with the understanding that the district attorney might recall him later. The cross-examination brought out further details of McNamara's plan to destroy the city of Los Angeles and also make an arrangement for exploding suitcases containing dynamite when they were opened by anyone except a person acquainted with the mechanism.

Victim of Knockout Drops.

Frankfort, Ind., Nov. 28.—The filing of the report of Coroner Carter in the case of George Allison, an old soldier of Colfax, who died under peculiar circumstances on Oct. 26, gives authorities a murder mystery to solve. The coroner holds that Allison came to his death through chloral hydrate, known as "knockout drops."

Former County Officials in Trouble.

LAWYER WINS A NOTABLE BATTLE

Albert T. Patrick Once More a Free Man.

PARDONED BY GOVERNOR DIX

New York Lawyer, Long Ago Condemned to Death on the Charge of Murdering William Marsh Rice, Finally Has Won Out in One of Most Remarkable Fights for Liberty in History of American Jurisprudence.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 28.—This morning Sing Sing prison doors opened for Albert T. Patrick, and he went forth a free man again to join his wife, who was awaiting him in New York city.

Governor Dix announced at 6 o'clock last night that he had pardoned Patrick. In 1900 the aged millionaire, William Marsh Rice, died in his New York city home under suspicious circumstances, and Lawyer Patrick was convicted of the murder and sentenced to be electrocuted. By successive appeals he stayed off death while in Sing Sing death house for nearly five years, and finally, the Friday before the week during which Patrick was to be electrocuted, Governor Higgins commuted the death sentence to imprisonment for life. Now Governor Dix sets Patrick free and in doing so made this statement:

"There has always been an air of mystery in this important case. Quoting from the minority opinion, the atmosphere that surrounded the defendant showed that a fair and impartial trial was scarcely possible. I trust that Mr. Patrick will devote his energies to a complete vindication of his declared innocence. During the past year I have given much consideration to this case, and am convinced that the defendant is entitled to have a full pardon."

In the court of appeals Patrick's conviction was affirmed by a vote of four to three, and it is the minority opinion of the court of appeals which the governor refers to. Patrick's fight for freedom was the most remarkable fight ever made by a convict in the country. The legal record of it fills eight volumes. The cost to the state was hundreds of thousands of dollars.

William Marsh Rice, a childless widower, died on the evening of Sunday, Sept. 23, 1900. He had been a recluse. His only attendant was his valet, Charles F. Jones, who was arrested for murder, turned state's evidence and said that he had chloroformed Rice at Patrick's behest. Jones received immunity and was released. Not long ago it was said he had confessed, exculpating Patrick.

Patrick was a New York lawyer. It was alleged at his trial that he and Rice had never known each other, although Patrick and his wife have always contended that the millionaire had become acquainted with Patrick's skill as a lawyer and admired it.

In 1896 Mr. Rice, then eighty-six years old, had made a will leaving the bulk of his fortune to the William A. Rice Institute for the Advance of Science, Art and Literature, in Texas, to which he had already given more than $1,500,000. The theory of the prosecution was that Patrick and Jones entered into a conspiracy to forge a new will giving Patrick half of the estate, and that the will having been made, they then conspired to kill Rice.

On Oct. 4, 1900, Patrick and Valet Jones were arrested, not for murder, but for forgery, connected with Rice's second will, and a $25,000 check which it was said Patrick had tried to cash after Rice's death. They were held in $10,000 bail apiece. The intention of the county authorities was to keep the two men while the death of Rice was being investigated. Two weeks later it was announced that a chemical analysis showed that Rice had been killed by poison. The police third-degree Jones for three days. He told them that Patrick had murdered Rice. He made what was said to be a detailed confession and then he tried to cut his throat in prison. There was no evidence that Patrick had anything to do with the maneuvers except the word of Jones.

Policeman Slain by Robbers. Cleveland, O., Nov. 28.—Three auto bandits shot and killed Patrolman Roy E. Bouker last night after robbing and shooting up a meat market at St. Clair avenue and East Sixteenth street. The thugs had an automobile in waiting, and when the policeman tried to prevent their escape they shot him dead.

Final Report on Indiana Crops Shows Them 8 Per Cent Better Than 1911.

TWICE AS MANY POTATOES

Yield and Quality of Corn is Greatly Improved Compared With Last Year.

The Department of Agriculture has just made its final report on the bumper Indiana crops of this year. The report contains highly interesting information, based on facts and estimates submitted by a large corps of reliable Indiana correspondents.

The average condition of all crops combined, compared, first, with 1911 and, secondly, with average stands, this year, 108 per cent, as compared with 1911, or, generally, 8 per cent, better than that year, and 102 per cent, as compared with the average crop for recent years.

Indiana's yield of corn for 1912 is given at 40.5 bushels per acre, as compared with thirty-six bushels in 1911 and 36.4 as an average for the last ten years.

The Indiana crop of potatoes this year averages 114 bushels per acre, as against fifty-eight bushels last year and ten-year average of eighty-two bushels. The total Indiana production of the tubers this year is reported as 9,918,000 bushels, as against 5,162,000 bushels last year. A great improvement in quality also is noted, this year's Indiana potatoes being rated in quality at 95, as against 79 last year and a ten-year average of 86. Sweet potatoes also indicate an improvement over last year, both in yield and quality.

The Department of Agriculture also has just issued a report of special interest to Indiana farmers on the subject of lighting farm homes. Four improved lighting systems for farmhouses are presented, as the result of extensive investigations conducted by the department. These are acetylene gas, gasoline, electricity and kerosene mantle lamps. Alcohol might be considered as a lighting fuel, the department says, but at its present price, it is prohibitive.

The department went to great lengths to try to ascertain how farm homes may be made more pleasant and attractive by proper illumination. The kerosene mantle lamp is highly recommended as economical and efficient.

"A sixteen-candle power light may be maintained, giving 17,000-candle power hours for $1," says the report. "While to give the same economy alcohol would have to sell at from 3 1/2 cents to 5 cents per gallon, as compared with the price of 59 cents. A kerosene mantle lamp with wick feed can be purchased at from $3 to $4.50, which burns satisfactorily with both alcohol and kerosene."

Acetylene is recommended as safer and more sanitary than gasoline. The cost of an acetylene plant for a farm home is estimated at $225, with an annual cost of operation of $50.

The department's "modern farm electric lighting system," is recommended as being very efficient and satisfactory, though more expensive. The cost, however, has been reduced by the advent of the tungsten lamp and the department estimates that a satisfactory electric light plant, including all equipment and labor of installation, need not exceed $550 with an annual cost of operation of $8 to $10.

Nurses Must Get Licenses

The state board of registration and examination of nurses will soon begin an investigation to compel all professional nurses to get licenses. Many unlicensed nurses have been notified by the board that they are violating the law. The board began an examination today of seventy-five nurses who have been in training in various hospitals. The tests are held in the house of representatives at the statehouse.

Wards of County Had Special Thanksgiving Dinner But "H. C. L." Cuts Down Feast.

DUCK SERVED AT POOR FARM

Twelve Men in Jail Given Spread by Sheriff and Mrs. Bebout—29 at County Asylum.

If the inmates of Rush county's charitable and penal institutions were expecting turkey today for dinner they were doomed to disappointment for it was not served. But the spirit of Thanksgiving prevailed and at both the jail and county asylum special dinners were prepared. It has been the custom each year to give the unfortunates a remembrance of Thanksgiving and this plan was not overlooked today.

At the county jail Sheriff and Mrs. Bebout gave the prisoners an extra spread and the meal brought good cheer to the twelve men held there. The prisoners this year are larger in numbers than was in jail at the same time last year. Last year only two men were the guests of the sheriff for Thanksgiving dinner. Up until last Saturday only two men were behind the bars and Mrs. Bebout had hopes of spending the day with relatives but this was made impossible by other arrests.

The inmates of the county asylum were served roast duck and all the trimmings for dinner. Mr. and Mrs. John Hume, who manage the farm gave the inmates a treat and one that will long be remembered. They have several turkeys on the farm but these will be saved until Christmas. Twenty-nine inmates ate dinner there today.

Mrs. Cora Barber, matron of the Henry-Rush Orphans' Home, Spiceland served her wards chicken and other dishes attractive to the appetite.

HIGH SCHOOL DIRECTORY.

Charles A. Greathouse, state superintendent of public instruction, has announced that the high school directory, to be issued from his office this year, will contain a list of the various members of the school boards in towns and cities of the state. The directory will not appear until December 1.
